

DISASTER FOLLOWS EXPLOSION. A high test gasoline hydroformer exploded in the morning hours in the Whiting refinery of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, and was still blazing 30 hours later. Like flood waters, oil and naphtha spread over the refinery grounds and into Whiting, where a state of emergency was called by the sheriff of Lake County and the governor. More than 6,000 firefighters struggled to hold the inferno in check.

3 Cars Collide In County; 13 Suffer Injuries

15 Other Crashes Are Investigated During Weekend Period Here

Thirteen persons were injured, with two of them hospitalized, in one three-car accident which occurred Sunday night on Route 23 south of Marion, state highway patrolmen reported.

Patrolmen investigated one other accident over the weekend, in which no persons were injured. Marion police reported no persons injured in 14 city accidents, and the sheriff's office assisted in the investigation of the three-car accident.

All 3 Northbound

The three-car accident occurred at 10 p.m. on Route 23 near the Owens Rd. intersection, about four miles south of Marion. All three cars involved in the accident were northbound and were behind another car, not directly involved in the accident, which also was northbound and had stopped to make a left turn onto Owens Rd.

A car driven by William E. Pridie, 46, of near Marion, struck a car driven by Chauncey W. Caldwell, 36, of 139 Clover Ave., which in turn struck a car driven by Troy E. Keltner, 43, of near Cardington.

The Keltner car was stopped behind another car which was stopped behind the car waiting to make a left turn.

Suffers Bruise

In "fairly good" condition at Marion General Hospital are Lude Meadows of Huntington, W. Va., who sustained severe shock, possible broken ribs and internal injuries, and Emelie Pridie, 14, of near Marion, who sustained head bruises, lacerations of the left side of the head and lacerations of the left eye.

The Huntington woman was a passenger in the Caldwell car, and Emelie was a passenger in the Pridie car.

Multi-Million Blaze in 3rd Day

Whiting Refinery Fire Still Burning

WHITING, Ind. (AP)—The big fire at the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) refinery burned into its third day today, but only two large storage tanks were gushing flames and smoke.

A company official said the multimillion dollar blaze was well in hand, and the "burning out" of uncontained fuels in the blackened 10-acre section was in line with safety policy.

500 Families Out

Thus, no volatile fluids would remain as a hazard when rehabilitation of the scarred area begins.

Life in adjacent Whiting got back to near normal, although some 500 families awaited the results of a check for explosive sewer gases before they could receive permission to return to their homes. Many were permitted to go into the mile square evacuated area for clothing.

The company opened a claims office in its administration and engineering building near the fire scene. Scores of residents visited the office to inquire about compensation for damage or injuries.

Estimated at $10 million. Already fire loss is estimated by Standard Oil at 10 million dollars. Two persons have died and 45 have been injured, three seriously.

Dog-tired firefighters continued to make progress against the flames—now confined to two storage tanks—as big clouds of dark gray smoke billowed into the illuminated sky through the night. They had brought the fire under control at noon Sunday, 30 hours after a tremendous explosion of undetermined cause.

Some 950 families evacuated from large areas near the refinery Saturday were kept away from their homes again Sunday night.

Highway Bill's Failure Costly, Says GM Head

CHICAGO (AP)—The General Motors' president said today Congress' inaction on the federal highway program is costing the country "an economic loss of an estimated five billion dollars a year."

Harlow H. Curtice, GM president, prepared remarks for a news conference prefacing the opening Wednesday of the corporation's "Powerama" exposition on Chicago's lake front.

He expressed hope that Congress would make enactment of "constructive highway legislation the first order of business when it reconvenes."

Curtice said President Eisenhower's proposal for a 10-year road building program represents "the kind of thinking and leadership that is needed" but "unfortunately Congress failed to implement the President's program with enabling legislation."

"Powerama," a vast display of the corporation's developments in various types of motive power, marks the production by GM of 100 million diesel horsepower, an achievement Curtice called a "modern industrial miracle."

"In the short period of little more than 20 years," he said, "General Motors has built enough diesel engines to give the country more new power capacity than all of the nation's privately-owned steam generating plants."

By 10 years from now, he predicted, GM will have produced its second 100 million diesel horsepower.

UNC Agrees To Cut Korea Truce Teams

West Asks Inspection Program Be Scrapped Rips Red 'Obstruction'

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—The United Nations Command agreed today to a cut in the controversial truce inspection teams in Korea. The Communists agreed previously to the reduction.

Going even further, the UNC asked an end to the inspection setup as the only solution to Communist obstructions and frustrations.

Violent demonstrations by South Koreans opposing the presence of the teams has resulted in injury to 44 U.S. soldiers and more than 100 Koreans.

Accused of Spying

Communist Czechs and Poles make up half of each team. South Korean officials have consistently accused them of being Red spies.

Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior Allied member of the joint Military Armistice Commission, agreed to the reduction plan at a commission meeting today.

Parks said the Allies consider reduction of the four-nation machinery "a temporary measure only."

"Obstructions and frustrations of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission by the Communists have made dissolution of that commission the only satisfactory solution to the problem," he added.

Reds Build Up Armed Might

The U.N. Command contends the Czechs and Poles have obstructed the neutral commission from performing its duty of checking all military personnel and equipment brought into North Korea. As a result, the Communists have put through a massive military buildup in the North in violation of the truce, the Allies say.

Each inspection team is composed of Swedes, Swiss and Communist Czechs and Poles.

Overcast Holds Temperatures Down in Ohio

Generally pleasant weather prevailed throughout most of the country today, ranging from nippy temperatures in the Northeast to early morning heat in the Southwest.

Ohio's forecast today called for some cloudiness and somewhat warmer with the high to range between 88 and 92, and partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday with little change in temperature.

Due to overclouded skies most of the day Sunday, the mercury in Marion only reached 81 while the overnight low last night was 67.

Early temperature readings throughout the country today ranged from the 40s in northern and central New England and parts of the northern Rockies to the mid 80s in the Rio Grande Valley and the desert Southwest.

Readings in the 70s were common from Green Bay, Wis., to Washington, D.C., southward to the Gulf and west through the plains region.

Gunman Holds 200 Officers at Bay in Detroit

Crazed Cabinet Maker Is Finally Shot Down After Four-Hour Siege

DETROIT (AP)—A berserk gunman who held 200 policemen at bay in a four-hour siege was shot to death last night as he broke from a flaming tear-gas-filled house firing a shotgun.

Ten policemen, crouched in the shadows of the next-door house, fired 40 shots at the man. He had dropped from a rear window to make his desperate bid to break through police lines.

Police identified him as Charles Luther Rollins, 44, Leoma, Tenn. Papers found on him gave his occupation as farmer and cabinet maker.

Two police officers were wounded in the battle watched by a crowd of 5,000 in a northwest Detroit residential district.

Senior Inspector Walter Wyrod's right hand was mangled by shotgun slugs.

Patrolman Anthony Oberdzinski, 23, was shot in the arm.

Rollins had holed up in the home of Bernard Smith, who was vacationing with his family in Tennessee. Neighbors said he was an uncle of Smith and had lived with him for a time last June.

Smith, a gun collector, had 11 weapons, including a machine gun, in the house.

Fires at Least 40 Shots. Police poured 40 tear gas bombs into the story-and-a-half frame building but failed to flush Rollins.

Exploding gas bombs were believed to have touched off an attic fire that burned for the last hour of the siege.

Rollins fired at least two score rounds in holding off police.

After a two-hour exchange of shots, Wyrod led Inspector Leslie

Changed Morocco Government Asked

PARIS (AP)—The French government decided today to try to form a new and representative Moroccan government through negotiations with Moroccan nationalist leaders.

Premier Edgar Faure's government will strive to do this before Sept. 12 in its effort to bring peace to French Morocco, scene of bloody violence in the past two weeks.

Says Cabinet in Accord

Pierre July, minister for Tunisia and Moroccan affairs, told a news conference at the end of a Cabinet meeting today that the Cabinet had unanimously endorsed the general Moroccan policy and authorized Premier Faure and himself to continue negotiations with the nationalists.

The Cabinet met for nine hours Sunday and again today to examine the proposals emerging from the meetings at Aix les Bains last week.

In direct negotiations with Moroccan nationalist leaders, the handling of the exiled Sultan of the North African protectorate appeared as the chief remaining stumbling block.

Still Hopeful of Success. Faure, who led a group of ministers in talks with Moroccan leaders last week at Aix les Bains, told reporters early today he still hoped to form a new Moroccan government that would include all shades of public opinion.

The talks at Aix les Bains ended without agreement on the timing for a partial end to the exile of former Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef. The talks will be reopened here later, for further discussions on the issue.

The Moroccan nationalists, led by the Istiglal (Independence) party and the Democratic Independence party (PDI), want Ben Youssef returned immediately to France from his exile in Madagascar.

Faure's return delayed until other parts of the Premier's peace program have been put in effect.

Agree on Ouster. The nationalists and the French leaders were agreed that the present Sultan, Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat, must be removed in the immediate future and replaced by a regency pending a final decision on Ben Youssef's status.

Faure's Moroccan plan also calls for replacement of Resident General.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The all clear was sounded today for the entire East Coast and probably for Bermuda as far as hurricane Edith is concerned.

Blasts Administration

Truman Says Business Dominates Republicans

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP)—Harry S. Truman fired the first salvo of a three-day Michigan Democratic conference Sunday by accusing the Republican administration of falling "100 percent under the domination of a business."

Truman, scheduled for a speech here tonight, told a news conference that this domination "started in Michigan."

Ducks Personalities. The former president said he did not want to discuss personalities, and he did not mention by name Secretary of Defense Wilson, former General Motors president, and other Michigan businessmen in the Eisenhower administration.

Commenting on Democratic chances in 1956, Truman said it was not inevitable that Republicans would win if President Eisenhower is re-nominated.

"I think the man who will win the election is the one who has the best platform," he said.

He reaffirmed his support of Adlai Stevenson and at the same time made it clear that he himself would not be a candidate.

He denied that he was embarking on another "give-em-hell" campaign.

Fresh Round Is Under Way At New York

Ike's Proposal Heads Newest Ideas Before U.N. 5-Power Group

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Delegates from the Big Four and Canada gathered today for a new round of disarmament talks. The meetings provide the first major test of the improvement in relations between the West and Russia since the Geneva summit conference.

The five-power subcommittee of the U.N. Disarmament Commission was called to meet this afternoon at U.N. headquarters to expand and discuss proposals made at Geneva.

To Study Ike's Proposal

Chief among new ideas advanced at Geneva was President Eisenhower's proposal that the United States and Russia exchange blueprints of their military establishments and allow each other to inspect these installations from the air. The Russians have been cool to the suggestion, although Soviet Premier Bulganin later took pains to emphasize his government had not rejected it.

A U.S. spokesman said before the opening session that while his government felt the general atmosphere since Geneva added a hopeful element to the new negotiations, quick agreement was not anticipated.

Instead, the Western and Soviet delegates were expected to lay the groundwork for higher level disarmament negotiations by the Big Four foreign ministers at their meeting in Geneva Oct. 27.

Expect Western Concessions

In Moscow, the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia cited Russia's acceptance last spring of the French-British proposal for phased reduction of conventional armed forces. Izvestia said the Soviets are "now entitled" to expect Western concessions to the persistent Russian demand for a ban on atomic weapons.

A U.S. spokesman said the American delegation would insist—as it always has in the past—that a comprehensive inspection system be set up to assure as far as possible compliance with any disarmament plan agreed on.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U.S. delegate to the U.N., prepared an opening American statement to the conference. Then he was to withdraw, leaving Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's special adviser on disarmament, as the chief U.S. representative.

Signatures Nullified

18 Nominating Petitions Ruled Invalid by Board

Petitions of 18 candidates for township, village and school board offices were ruled invalid today by the Marion County Board of Elections.

The petitions were nullified when they were found to contain less than the required number of signatures of registered voters.

Included in the 18 were the petitions of 10 candidates for office in the village of New Bloomington. The action by the Board of Elections means the New Bloomington offices all will be decided by write-in vote. To be selected are a mayor, clerk, treasurer and six councilmen.

Election board officials pointed out that all 18 petitions had the required number of signatures but that they lacked the required number of valid signatures by registered voters.

The officials said the candidates whose petitions were ruled invalid could conduct write-in campaigns for election, but their names will not appear on the ballots.

Those persons and the offices for which they filed were:

Frank Gifford, New Bloomington council; Bertice Pfeiffer, New Bloomington treasurer; Verne G. Pfeiffer, New Bloomington council; Mary Kannel, New Bloomington village clerk; Guy E. Smith, New Bloomington council; Glenn E. Lucas, New Bloomington council; Vern C. Kinsler Sr., New Bloomington council; Kenneth Kinsler, New Bloomington mayor; Roy K. Jones, New Bloomington mayor; Robert C. Corbin, New Bloomington mayor; George W. Snyder, Waldo council; Robert Nickum, Tully Board; Harold Manning, Tully Board of Education; William Earl, Claridon Board of Education; Ruth Wyckoff, Tully Township clerk; Ralph Roesch, Tully Township trustee; Howard C. Hull, Waldo mayor, and James C. Hummer, Caledonia Board of Public Affairs.

In Morra, election board officials report, the only candidate who filed for election was Laura Mae Massie, who is seeking the

Corrective Action Studied

Open Ditches Among Sewer Problems

By CHARLES L. MARTIN

Corrective action to eliminate unpleasant odors from both the Columbia St. and Quoka open ditches is one of the city's pressing sewer needs, many local residents believe.

The Chamber of Commerce points out that the Columbia St. open ditch particularly needs corrective measures. Enclosing it to well beyond the city limits would open a large area west of Clinton St. for low cost industrial housing developments, the Chamber feels.

City engineer John Ruth estimates that enclosing the ditch in tile would cost some $30,000. He points out that the Columbia St. storm water sewer is six feet in diameter and the further it is extended the larger it must be made. The cost per foot for tile of this size is about $35 to $40, his office estimates.

But even if the ditches are enclosed this still does not fully solve the problem, Ruth points out. This is because the tile must end someplace and there would still be odors rising from the end of the tile which would be carried back to the east by the prevailing winds over Marion.

The only other solution to the problem would be to eliminate all sanitary sewage from the Columbia St. storm sewer or divert the entire flow from the sewer through the sewage treatment plant.

Presently, except for a time after heavy rainstorms, the greatest share of the sewage is diverted to the sewage plant through an interceptor sewer running north from the end of the Columbia St. sewer, the city engineer's office points out.

ONE REASON for the unpleasant odors rising from the open ditch is an uneven bed, which causes pools of contaminated water to become stagnant when there is little or no flow through the ditch. Bacterial action on this stagnant water creates the unpleasant odors which annually bring numerous complaints from the residents living on the city's southwest side.

Approximately the same problem presents itself relative to the Quoka open ditch running south along the eastern edge of the Vernon Heights subdivision.

Here, too, a large, four-foot diameter, storm water sewer empties into the ditch.

Actually, tests have shown only a very small amount of sanitary sewage mixed in the storm water flow from this sewer, city officials claim.

Sunday Crowd Hits 100,000 at Ohio State Fair

Marion County Grange Second in Booth Show; Others From Area Win

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—The third All-American Swiss Futurity, a $2,500 classic, will be the principal livestock event at the Ohio State Fair today.

The winner will be awarded the National Brown Swiss Assn. rotating trophy and the title of national champion in a field of 281 two-year-old futurity eligibles.

Purses include $1,250 offered by the All-American Swiss Futurity, Inc., and $1,250 offered by the Ohio State Fair.

Heading the nightly "Parade of Stars" show will be songstress Peggy King of the George Gobel television show.

Wool Queen Crowned

One of yesterday's major fair attractions was the crowning of the state's first wool queen—Mrs. Elaine Leighty of Upper Sandusky—by Mrs. Jane Lausche, the governor's wife. The presentation was made during a wool show in which models displayed the latest in wool clothing.

Fair officials estimated 100,000 persons were on hand for the third fair day. At least 20,000 were watching from the grandstand as 13 Ohio American Legion drum and bugle corps competed.

Salan's Angels from Bellefontaine defeated Massillon Post 221 for top honors. Bellefontaine received a $600 prize, and Massillon $500 second place money in the competition.

The Delta Staccatos took first place in a field of five rifle drill teams. The Delta group is state and national legion champion.

Junior Sheep Champion

A 17-year-old Logan County farmer, Eugene Robinson of Rushsylvania, was named winner of the "sheep championship" in the junior fair. Future Farmers of America competition. His pen of three lambs won top honors in the FFA pen of three classes, the FFA grand championship and the junior fair's reserve championship.

Top market hog showman in the FFA division was David Benson, 16, of Rt. 2, Carroll, Fairfield County.

Other winners in the junior division market hog show included William Winter, Pickaway County, champion pen of three in lightweight class with Chester Whites in FFA; Sarah Lou McDaniel of Fairfield County, who won the 4-H showmanship contest with her spotted Poland Chinas; and Vernon Allen of Fairfield County who won the champion heavy weight barrow in 4-H with his Hampshire.

Best Hay Exhibit

Richard Gerber, Rt. 1, Nevada, won the best hay exhibit contest. He also won the first cutting alfalfa and the second cutting alfalfa classes.

Other winners included: Alfalfa-Grass mixture — Ralph Morris, Rt. 6, Lancaster; Red Clover—Robinson.

Asheley Grange of Delaware County was the winner in the best booth competition of the Ohio State Fair. The award was $75. Marion County Grange was second and Leasburg Grange of Union County third.

The Knox County Grange won fourth place, Victory Grange of Jackson County fifth, Perry Community Grange of Franklin County sixth, and New Antioch Grange of Clinton County seventh.

Marion County's Swine Entry Tops at Ohio Fair

A pen of three barrows entered in the Ohio State fair by a Marion County man was given first prize in judging held Saturday. The animals were entered by Robert Everett of near New Bloomington. They were entered in the Poland China class.

Ludwig Leaves 'Y' Staff, Will Fill Post in Ethiopia

Marvin Ludwig, youth secretary of the Marion YMCA, officially concludes his duties Thursday and with his wife leaves for a four-year assignment in Ethiopia.

Ludwig recently was employed by the National YMCA board for World Service work in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, where he will serve the only 'Y' in the entire country.

His job will be to direct the 'Y' program there and train social 'Y' leaders in the World Service program, a joint activity of YMCA's of the United States and Canada in cooperating with 'Y' movements in other countries. His wife will be in charge of music.

Prior to sailing for their new post Oct. 3 from New York, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig plan to visit her mother, Mrs. Alma Bjorkman, in Waukegan, Ill. Their boat trip will take them to Paris, Geneva, and Rome, Italy, from where they will fly to Egypt and on to Ethiopia.

Ludwig, son of Rev. and Mrs. L. Harrison Ludwig of 232 E. Church St., has been associated with the local 'Y' for nearly five years. He came on the 'Y' staff in October, 1951, as boys work secretary at the old 'Y' and later became youth secretary at the new building.

Ludwig is treasurer of the Association of Secretaries of Ohio and West Virginia and vice president of the Association of Youth Direc-

Man Hospitalized With Knife Wound

A cutting scrape in a Kenton Ave. restaurant sent a 36-year-old Marion man to General Hospital in serious condition early Sunday.

William Scott of 141 Waterloo St. suffered a deep cut which opened an artery in his right arm pit in an altercation with another man at the restaurant between 1:30 and 2 a.m. Sunday.

Taken to the hospital by two patrons of the restaurant he was in a state of shock and suffering from loss of blood, police were told. He was reported in "fairly good" condition at the hospital today.

Police investigated but said they could learn none of the details of the altercation except that it started out as "horseplay" and grew into a fight. A 30-year-old parolee was said to be Scott's assailant but police were unable to locate him.

Tent Services at Park List Sermon Subjects

Sermon subjects for services this week in the special tent crusade in progress at Garfield Park were announced today by Rev. Charles Gray of Dennison, O., the evangelist. He will preach tonight on "Curse of Ivy Poison"; and through Friday night in order: "The Largest Church in the World"; "What Are You Living For?"; "Is There Really a Hell?"; and "What Keeps You From Being a Christian?" A Moody Bible Institute film, "Hidden Treasure," will be shown Saturday night.

Good attendance at services Sunday was reported by Rev. Earl L. Holliday of the Maranatha Bible Church, sponsor of the tent meetings. Special music was by Fred Sammons from Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, Ill., trombonist, Mrs. Leona Gray, wife of the evangelist, who plays a number of musical instruments, and by local musicians.

Postoffice Here On Government Building Plans

Marion and 10 area communities are among 221 sites in Ohio where new federal buildings are needed.

According to an Associated Press announcement from Washington today, a $905,000 postoffice here is among a list of proposed buildings submitted recently by the Postoffice Department and the General Services Administration to Congress.

The structure here and the other postoffice structures were formerly listed as needed and carried over into the new list. The Associated Press announcement said. Postoffice buildings needed in the area with their cost if the price is over $200,000 are at La Rue, Prospect, Richwood, $211,000, Cardington, Ashley, Attica, New Washington, Plymouth, $215,000, Sunbury, $211,000, and Ulica.

Most of the federal buildings are postoffices and all but 42 of them were carried over from a previous list given to Congress. The announcement said that none of the projects can be started without Congressional approval and that by law, the Postoffice Department and GSA are required to submit such a list every two years.

Sewers

They explain the odor which arises from the ditch each summer is caused more by stagnant pools of water lying in the ditch than by actual sanitary sewage.

ANY STORM water sewage will be attacked by bacteria and an odor created if the water remains too long in a stagnant pool, the city engineering department points out.

This is because all kinds of refuse which litters the city streets is swept into the storm water sewers during heavy rains. When this refuse is attacked by bacteria in the water and finds its way into a pool, the result is the creation of sewage odors, the engineers explain.

The Quaca ditch could be enclosed at less cost than the Columbia St. ditch, say the engineers. The odors would be carried far enough to the south inside the tile that when released at the end of it prevailing winds likely would carry them over more or less open country without creating a nuisance, they add.

But Mayor Harold F. Robinson feels that enclosing either the Columbia St. or the Quaca open ditches is not the whole solution to the problem.

Unless some steps are taken to eliminate the cause of the odors, the only result of enclosing the ditches would be to "throw the sewage onto someone else further downstream," he says.

Drivers Escape Injury In Morrow Auto Crash

No one was injured in an accident investigated in Morrow County Saturday by state highway patrolmen of the Marion post.

The accident occurred at 1:15 p.m. on Route 42 about two miles south of Cardington. A south-bound car driven by David Gump, 23, of Shelby, rounded a curve and struck a southbound farm tractor and trailer operated by Tolle Clements, 34, of Cardington.

Minor damage resulted to the front of Gump's car and to the rear of the trailer. Gump was fined $13 and costs on a charge of failing to stop within an assured clear distance ahead when he appeared before Cardington Mayor Don Healea.

Caldwell and Lt. Edward Jacque into the house.

They found Rollins in a bedroom closet. He opened fire and drove the officers to a porch. Wyrod went back into the house alone. A single shot was fired. He staggered out holding his right hand, torn from the knuckles to the wrist.

Neighbors said Rollins showed up in the Smith home last week. Sunday a woman went to the house to tell him the Smith beehive had been tapped over.

"Get away before I kick your face in," Rollins told her. Police were called. When Rollins spotted them he opened fire.

Bucyrus Couple's Child Swallows Pin, Dies After Surgery

SYCAMORE — Bonnie Kay Bauer, 19-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bauer of near Bucyrus died at 1:20 a.m. yesterday in Children's Hospital, Columbus, where she was taken for surgery after swallowing a safety pin.

Death was due to complications following surgery in Columbus. The child swallowed the pin Saturday morning at her home and was rushed to the Columbus hospital.

Born in Upper Sandusky on Jan. 11, 1954, she was the daughter of Arthur G. and Virginia E. Ahlefeld Bauer.

Surviving in addition to her parents are two brothers, Richard Lee and William Gerald Bauer, and one sister, Sharon, all at home; and her grandparents, Mrs. Ruth Bauer of Crestline and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ahlefeld of east of Sycamore.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Moore Funeral Home here with Rev. T. A. Hiett, pastor of the Olive Branch EUB Church, officiating. Burial will be at Brookensnow Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. today.

post of village clerk. No candidates filed for any other offices in the village.

IN WALDO, THERE will be three councilmen chosen by write-in vote as only three men filed for the six posts. Prospect has no candidate for mayor, while LaRue has three blank spots for council and two for the board of public affairs.

Despite the ruling which dropped the 18 candidates from the ballots, there are still 175 persons whose names will appear on the ballot Nov. 8 for the general elections. They include the 26 candidates selected in Marion in the May primary election for city offices, as well as all persons who filed for township, village, school board and other posts before the filing deadline earlier this month.

Session To Determine Fate of Cyprus Begins

LONDON (U)—The three-power conference on the fate of Britain's Mediterranean stronghold, the crown colony island of Cyprus, opened today with mounted police patrolling to prevent demonstrations.

The foreign ministers of Britain, Greece and Turkey gathered to discuss the future of the island where Greeks are demanding union with their home country.

Traffic Cases In City Court

Twenty-eight drivers were assessed a total of $550 in Marion Municipal Court Saturday on various traffic charges.

One driver charged with drunken driving was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to five days in the Marion County jail and his driver's license was suspended for three years. He was R. W. Lee, 22, of Fostoria.

Two other drivers each forfeited $35 bonds when they failed to appear for hearings. They were H. R. West, 20, of Genesee, Ky., charged with speeding, and O. L. Gwin, 21, of Flint, Mich., charged with reckless driving.

Two drivers charged with speeding were each fined $25 and costs. They were David Johnson, 18, of near Marion, and P. E. Pendleton, 24, of near New Bloomington. Each of the other drivers was fined $15 and costs and six of the fines and costs were suspended by Judge W. Dexter Hazen. Drivers and charges were:

Speeding: P. J. Neidig, 20, of 323 Forest Lawn Blvd., fine and costs suspended; Carson Bowman, 35, of 736 E. Center St.; P. A. Marshall, 20, of 292 Midland Ave.; Forest W. Rhoden, 19, of near Nevada, fine and costs suspended; D. R. Keane, 32, of Columbus, and E. E. Hayes, 22, of 817 Gebhardt St.

Crossing over a yellow line: R. J. Geary, 45, of Fremont, fine and costs suspended; Roy Stewart, 51, of Lancaster; W. C. Lyle, 26, of 640 E. Center St., fine and costs suspended; H. E. Backes, 36, of 222 S. State St.; Fred Hearn, 74, of near Westerville, and

C. R. Jewett, 48, of Columbus. No muffler: J. C. Wallace, 34, of Cleveland, and M. R. Stratton, 21, of 279 Park St.

No driver's license: F. W. Bailey, 30, of 194 E. Fairground St., fine and costs suspended, and Beulah Mae Bailey of 194 E. Fairground St.

Miscellaneous: A. C. Brown, 42, of Toledo, reckless driving; William Campbell, 32, of Sandusky, no safety chains; Harry Severs, 62, of near New Bloomington, driving left of center; Boris Petroff, 31, of Bucyrus, illegal parking on the highway; M. I. Amos, 40, of 382½ Quarry St., improper license plates; Darlene J. Galyk of 485 Patterson St., driving on a temporary license, unaccompanied by a licensed driver, fine and costs suspended and Lloyd Hall, 24, of 593 N. Main St., failure to display a license tag.

District Traffic Arrests

Two persons were arrested out side of Marion County over the weekend by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

Arrested on charges of passing over a yellow line were Thomas Carter, 29, of Columbus, and Joseph Distl, 24, of Mansfield. Carter was fined $10 and costs by Mount Gilead Mayor Emery Murphy and Distl was fined $15 and costs by Cardington Mayor Don Healea.

Direct Elections

By George Sokolsky

In the last session of Congress, seven resolutions were introduced proposing constitutional amendments changing the method for nominating and electing the president and vice president of the United States. What it all comes down to is that there seems to be an excitement about having a more direct election of these officers.

The main objection to the electoral system is that an unfair discrimination exists whereby the "individual voter in New York State has 15 times the voice-power in presidential elections as an equally important individual citizen in Delaware." Personally, I cannot get excited by the arithmetic.

What is causing the citizen profound concern is that he actually does not have much choice in the selection of a president. He is given two names, selected by a small group in each party and he has to vote for one or the other or not at all.

LET ME RECOUNT the inside story of the Willie nomination as an example of what actually happens. But before I go on with the story, permit me to make the point that every once in a while, I read a letter from someone calling attention to an error of fact in an article in this column, the error being that the letter-writer never heard of the matter to which I prefer, while I am recounting what is to me a personal experience because I handled the matter personally.

I was once associated with the National Association of Manufacturers and at that time a group of big business men decided that they had to find a candidate to defeat Franklin D. Roosevelt and that the ordinary Republican would not do because he could not get elected. So, Wendell Willkie a lawyer for Commonwealth and Southern, who had come up from Ohio, was studied as one of several prospects. He believed in private enterprise and was a top-notch public relations man. So they decided to test him out and they got him on a session of the town meeting of the air, where he did a splendid job. Now, I am not talking from books because I worked on that job along with some other wordsmiths.

SO WILLKIE made good and a special organization was established and duly financed to mobilize American business in every town in the United States for Wendell Willkie. This was highly camouflaged and its existence is still denied, but I was there. So the denials make no impression upon me. I know a lot of other people who were there.

So all of a sudden, this comparatively obscure man, who had been a socialist at college and a registered Democrat in New York, and who got his job because he was a Democrat, was made into a Republican and was put over as a colossal tribute of the people, who would defeat Franklin D. Roosevelt. (Incidentally, and this can be checked, some of these business men contributed to Roosevelt as well as to Willkie.)

I cite this example because I personally witnessed this organization in its early stages and then voted for Roger Babson to save my conscience. And many unbelievable incidents related to this effort come to my mind whenever I think of a free election and the free choice of the people.

THE QUESTION of political responsibility and the political growth of the individual leader is really more important than the amendments I see before me. Take for instance, the nomination of President Eisenhower. The leader of the Republican party was Robert A. Taft, but Eisenhower, an outsider, was nominated because the inner group in the party, this time the same business men combined with the Dewey machine, felt that Taft could not be elected and that Eisenhower could be. And Eisenhower was elected. But what of party responsibility?

There are some in this country who no longer believe in party responsibility and who are leading us, step by step, toward government by personal popularity. The parties are losing the reason for their existence, except as vehicles of election. Yet experience shows that the two-party system, operating on principle, and led by men of political responsibility as in Great Britain, produces an efficient, competent type of government for a free people. How to re-establish that kind of political responsibility in this country is really our most pressing problem. (King Features Syndicate)

Nehru's Liberalism

By Victor Riesel

I've been investigating Nehru's Indian government for some time now, strictly on the theory that it's not really our friend and some day soon may become a rather energetic enemy. In my bulging files is some quantitative information which indicates that the Indians would be well advised to overlook the unfortunate, bumbling Jim Crowing of their ambassador Gaganvihar Lalubhai Mehta, by an over-zealous lady restaurateur in Houston, Texas.

The Indians are hardly in a position to criticize anyone for breaches of civil liberties.

They have some of the toughest labor and press laws and anti-free speech regulations this side of the bamboo curtain.

When it comes to discrimination you need only wander through the huge city of Calcutta or the other Indian communities. See, in the early morning hours, the "untouchables" awoken. They have lain in the streets under the cover of vermin-ridden cloth. They go to the local fountain and wash. Then they beg and scrounge for bread.

THERE ARE SOME 70 million of these wretched humans, although the Indian government says it is now illegal to treat or group them as "untouchables." But there is also a report in the Indian parliamentary files which says that little can be done to wipe out the Indian upper castes' distaste for the "untouchables" and the brutal discrimination practiced daily against them.

We can't justify ourselves with any of this, but just let me say in passing that it would be fascinating to watch an "untouchable" try to get into some of the big Calcutta, Delhi or Bombay hotels and restaurants.

But that's not all. My trans-Asian plane put down at the Calcutta airport the night of a dock workers' slowdown. The waterfronts of the world are my hobby, so I looked into this type of Indian strike. If you want to see some tough labor laws in action just follow the use of the Indian codes.

THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT at once declared a "state of emergency" because of the slowdown. M. Ayyer, the government's transport minister, who has the power under the Dock Workers Regulation of Employment Act to fire longshoremen for striking or working slowly, began to crack the whip. And the Indian law gives him plenty of latitude.

The government can jail the strikers, or fine them heavily or exile them from all dock work for life by removing their names from the employment register. Furthermore, the government can refuse to pay the dockworkers for time put in during the slowdown—even if cargo was handled—albeit at a slower pace.

Strike leaders can be arrested—and have been. There is no appeal from the government's order under that great libertarian, Jawaharlal Nehru. The government's position is that a strike wastes the national wealth—and it wants its shipping delayed.

THE STATE OF EMERGENCY was declared, by the way, although there was no congestion in the port. Only one ship was forced to wait out in the harbor before it could pull up dockside.

Well, you might say a strike emergency is a strike emergency and maybe Nehru's transport minister had to move. But I say this tough policy is just one part of the whole picture of Nehru's power to crack down on everybody—including the press. Just read his press laws. Nehru can shut down any paper if it gets too critical of him.

And he can shut the mouths of the 400 million Indians anytime they protest. While I was in Asia, I kept a lookout for arrests on the civil libertarian front. This government will arrest you for shouting even half slogans against its policies. Up in Ambala on Aug. 2, some poor souls wound up in jail for a month, plus a 200 rupee fine, because 11 of them marched through the streets shouting some words.

THEY WERE IMPRISONED under Section 144 C.P.C. (Criminal Procedure Code, in what seems to me to be a violation of their own constitution and local Fifth Amendment. Seems these 11 Akalis wanted their local state reorganized. The slogan for this was "Punjabi Suba Zindabad."

These 11 "demonstrators" knew the law prohibited the shouting of slogans on the street, so some of them yelled half, "Punjabi Suba" and the others finished the call by adding "Zindabad." But they were jailed anyway for shouting even the half slogans.

Also arrested was a "Satyagraha" (passive resistance) group in New Delhi the same day. Some Indians, including a member of the Parliament, led two cows and a calf through the streets demanding a ban on the slaughtering of cows. Five men were arrested for shouting such slogans. This, and worse, goes on all the time.

Seems to me the pious Nehru ought to clean out his own home first. We made a mistake. We apologized. Now it's Nehru's turn. He owes the decent world an apology for what's happening inside India. (Hall Syndicate)

Jobs for Blind

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK It is hard to get some employers to hire handicapped people. Often when they do, they have a feeling they are doing the handicapped a favor.

Joe Heller is a different kind of employer. He prefers to hire blind people because he has found they do a better job than workers who can see.

"And I mean they do a better job in every way," said Heller, who operates a two million dollar a year wholesale toy manufacturing firm in Chicago. Only 2 percent of his employees have normal vision. Ninety-six per cent are totally blind, the other two percent partially blind.

Heller's ORIGINAL interest in the blind was sentimental. "When I was a boy of 7," he recalled, "my best friend fell into a trough of lime while playing on the site of a construction project. His eyes were burned out."

"I was very close to him. In those days there wasn't so much known about how to help the blind adjust themselves to their condition. My friend grew up and died, but he never learned to adjust himself.

In 1949 Heller, who had been active in the toy field, decided to go into business for himself. With two partners he founded the Skill Craft Corp., which markets "Handy Andy" juvenile tool sets.

THE IDEA CAME to him that perhaps some of the routine factory tasks could be performed by the blind, that in this way he could save some of them from the dreary loneliness of his dead childhood friend. He went to the Chicago Lighthouse for the Blind for help in setting up a training program.

The program worked out better than anyone's expectations. The blind proved amazingly able to perform any task assigned to them.

Today Heller has a reservoir of 500 skilled blind workers to draw on, employees from 100 to 150, depending on seasonal fluctuations in the toy industry. He avoids any sentiment in discussing them.

SOME OF THE BLIND do office work. Some operate drill presses and riveting machines. Some assemble and pack the tool kits. When the firm added a line of chemistry sets, microscopes and juvenile mechanical drawing kits, the blind learned the necessary new skills quickly and easily.

"In all sincerity," said Heller, "I would stack them up against the best group of sighted people. Our people would do their jobs better—and get them done faster. They develop a marvelous sense of touch that compensates for their loss of sight."

Do they have other advantages? "Many," said Heller crisply. "They don't argue or quibble or loaf on the job. If they get paid on a Friday, they don't go on a spree till the next Wednesday. "There is little absenteeism. A blind man has to be really sick before he'll miss work. Once we've trained a blind worker we've never had to let one go—not a single one —because he let down on the job.

"THEY ARE HAPPIER working than any people who can see. We have music for them, and often they break out singing."

"They are also more careful. Our safety record is perfect. We've never had an accident."

The blind are paid during a four-week training period. They then receive the same wage scale—up to $2 an hour—as workers in other Chicago toy factories, plus extra money if their output is above the average.

"They come from all walks of life," said Heller. "One of our superintendents was the personnel director of a large corporation before he lost his sight. Another was a contractor."

"About 35 per cent of our blind are women. They do as well as the men—and some things better. But they're all good."

All his blind employees come to work and go home by themselves. A few have seeing eye dogs. But most pride themselves on the fact they can get along with nothing but a white cane.

AN EXAMPLE of their ability to grow on a job: A group of six workers who packed 800 sets of toys in a given period when they first started on the job three years ago can now pack 4,000 sets in the same time—a production increase of 500 per cent.

"More employers ought to go to the nearest agency for the blind," said Heller, "and really find out for themselves what the blind can do. 'They'll find them to be, man for man, a greater asset than many of the people they have on their payroll now.' (The Associated Press)

ABANDONED TWINS RESCUED. Found abandoned in their Los Angeles home, Anna Rose and Henry Cervantes, 7-month-old twins, are attended at the Receiving Hospital by nurse Barbara Dahlgren. Juvenile officers, answering the call of a neighbor, are credited with saving Anna's life. The child was found trapped face down between a daybed and the wall.

South Carolina Girl, 16, Champ Baton Twirler

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A pretty 16-year-old South Carolina high school girl is the new queen of the twirling world.

She's Carolyn Willis of Chesterfield, S. C., who last night won the title Miss Majorette of 1955. Carolyn competed with 27 other state champs and an entrant from the province of Ontario.

Adorned in a Confederate Army uniform—a short pants version—and waving a Confederate flag, Carolyn pranced out on the stage at nearby Buckeye Lake. She twirled her baton to the tune of "Dixie."

The 5-foot 5-inch, 114-pound, brown-haired winner received a $300 trophy and a $200 cash prize. Gaila Ponte, 18, Dearborn, Mich., was second; Carolyn Lewis, 18, Salem, Ohio, third; Gayla Carson, 17, Farmington, N. M., fourth; and Rose Marie Barone, 18, Cheyenne, Wyo., fifth.

Selection was made on the basis of strutting and twirling ability, beauty, showmanship, and poise and grace.

Cincinnati Man Is Found Dead Near Highway

CYNTHIANA, Ky. (AP)—A Cincinnati man whose body was found Sunday about 30 feet off U. S. 27 presumably was carried there after being hit by a speeding automobile.

This was the theory of Coroner Dave Rees who examined the body of Chester P. Ruark, 56, after it was discovered yesterday by Michigan vacationers.

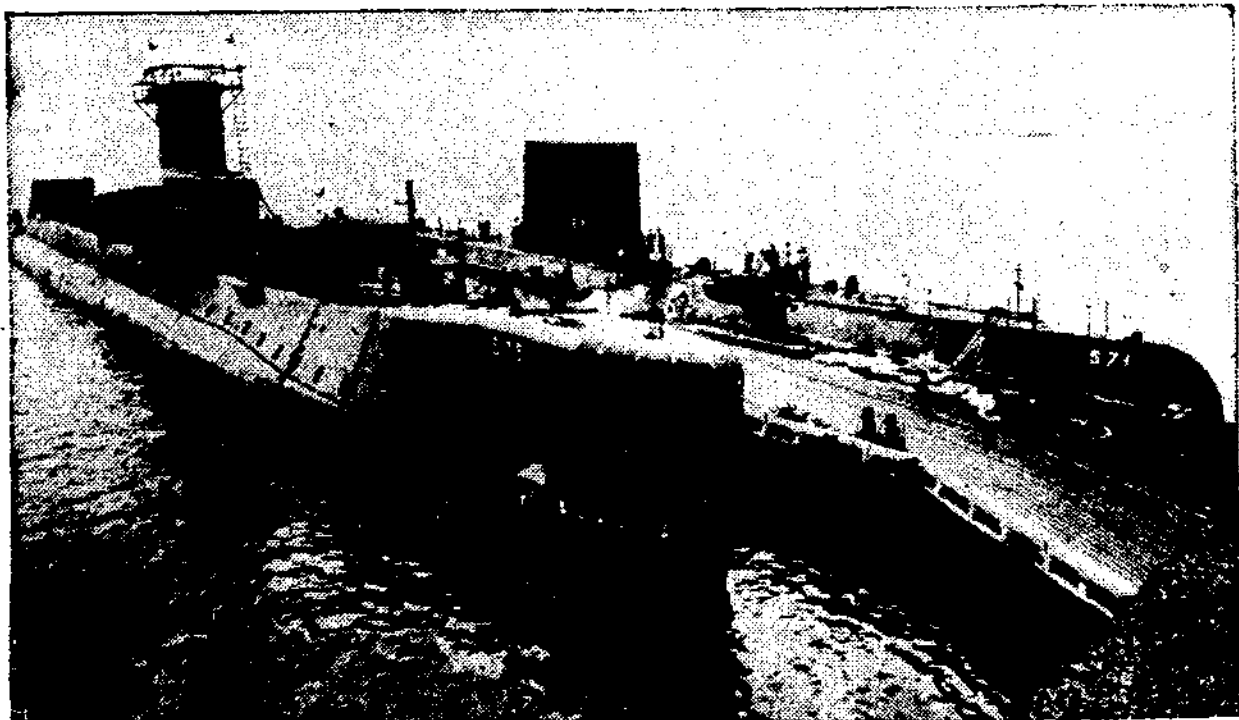

A pool of blood was on the highway and the shoes were several feet from the body. A dollar bill was found beside the highway.

Rees said Ruark had been dead 4 to 10 hours when Dale Yoakum of Dearborn, Mich., discovered the body.

"I think it would have been very hard for Mr. Ruark to have suffered the extensive injuries which he did if he were thrown from a car or even pushed from it," he said. "My guess is that he was struck by a car or a truck which was traveling at a high rate of speed."

Yoakum had stopped at the Antioch Bridge, 13½ miles north of Cynthiana, to dispose of a broken water jug. He saw the body and called police.

The amount of $10,000 bills in circulation declined from 60 million dollars in 1954 to 9 million dollars in 1955.

Rural Areas Picked for Plant Sites

Big Industrial Expansion Is Dispersed

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—New factories bloom these days in the green pastures. A sizable part of the big expansion program is being dispersed around the country and being located in or near the smaller cities.

Employment figures show this.

For the nation as a whole factory jobs have risen smartly in recent years, but in most of the biggest centers it has been barely holding its own, if that.

It's a two-way proposition: smaller communities are actively seeking new plants to give their people jobs; business has been seeking sites with the most favorable conditions for its new factories.

SOME STATES and towns and river or highway associations have been making open bids for new plants. A number of railroads and utility companies have active programs of encouraging new plants in their areas. Their interest is obvious: the plants use their products and services, and so do the workers the new plants employ.

Much regional bitterness has accompanied the postwar trend. When a corporation closes an old factory and moves to another locality, for whatever inducement, the abandoned feel exactly the way you'd expect them. New England, for example, is up in arms at the mere suggestion that some of its flood-stricken enterprises might move elsewhere.

Those seeking new industries, however, contend that in most cases the plants are really new and part of America's growing industrial total, and not merely an old operation in a different locale.

THE STAKES can be high. The Erie railroad, for example, boasts that new plants along its lines this year — especially General Motors at Mansfield, Ohio, Ford at Mahwah, N.J., and National Biscuit at Fair Lawn, N.J. — can lead to an increase of 10 million dollars a year in the road's freight revenue. Some of the reasons corporations have given for dispersing plants into new and hitherto little industrialized areas are:

New pools of labor; sometimes cheaper wage rates; less employee turnover; lower land cost for expansion, parking or recreation facilities; often better and cheaper living conditions; and that intangible but pleasant asset—the feeling of being the big frog in a small pond.

Grant for Rehabilitation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio has been allotted $1,041,782 for basin support of the nationwide vocational rehabilitation program. The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation made the announcement of the federal grants yesterday. The grants, to be matched by the states receiving them, are to be used in part to expand and improve rehabilitation services and facilities. The total to states and federal territories for the year ending next June 30 is $32,600,000.

2 Washington State Hospital Inmates Hit Guard, Escape

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Two inmates of the Eastern State Hospital at Medical Lake, one of them a ringleader in the July riot at the state penitentiary at Walla Walla, overpowered an attendant Sunday night and escaped.

The men were identified as Herman Satter, 35, and James Elland, 35, both described as very dangerous.

Satter was charged last Saturday with kidnapping, conspiracy to kidnap and prison rioting in connection with the state prison riot.

Dr. M. M. Campbell, superintendent at the hospital, said the two men overpowered an attendant, tied him up and took his keys.

Satter was transferred to the hospital last month for mental observation.

3 Hurt Fighting Fire

Cincinnati Burglar Toils Mightily, Gets Nothing

CINCINNATI (AP)—Some energetic burglar broke into Kiefer's Restaurant over the weekend.

He smashed a padlock on a coal chute and bored a hole through the floor. But this wasn't big enough to allow him to squeeze through. So he tried, unsuccessfully, to jimmy a kitchen door, and finally gained entrance by removing a pane of glass and sliding a door bolt.

He left without taking anything. Police said he may have been too tired to go on.

Tom Nuckles Insurance Agency, Inc.

"Insurance Is Our Profession, Not A Sideline"

TO OUR CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS:

As many of you know my former associate Henry Parks suffered a severe stroke. Mr. Parks of necessity has resigned and is now residing near his son in Columbus, Ohio. The Farm and City Insurance Service, Inc. has become associated with the Tom Nuckles Insurance Agency, Inc. We now have for your convenience offices in Marion, Richwood and Marysville, Ohio.

Tom Nuckles has moved to Marion and is now a resident of our city and will be associated with our office. I have known Tom for a good many years and he has my unqualified recommendation as a competent, qualified insurance man.

Tom Nuckles has completed some twenty-five years in the insurance profession both as a company man and as a local agent. During that time he has served as Secretary of the Missouri Fire Prevention Association, member Executive Committee Ohio Fire Underwriters Association and has been a frequent speaker on insurance matters appearing on many State and National Insurance Association programs. Tom is second generation "insurance" inasmuch as his father prior to his death spent thirty-eight years in the general insurance field. Tom Nuckles is a recognized "insurance man" among "insurance men" throughout Ohio and the middle West. I will continue to be associated with the firm and as in the past will be highly interested in your insurance problems and the continued welfare and progress of our firm. We are still doing business at the same location, using the same phone and welcome the continued opportunity to serve your insurance needs.

Very sincerely yours,

F. Howard Lawson,
Associate Manager

School Opens Sept. 6

Half-Day Sessions Slated
For Pupils at Richwood

RICHWOOD — Elementary school pupils in Richwood will attend only half-day sessions while the current school remodeling and building project is in progress.

The project, which includes a new elementary school wing to the east side of the present building and renovation of the old grade school, was expected to be completed in time for the opening day of school, Sept. 6. The work has not been completed, however, and the elementary pupils of the Richwood - Claiborne schools will be attending only half-day sessions until the remodeling is completed at the old building.

Superintendent of Schools H. R. Fisher said the first, third and sixth grade students will attend the morning session from 8:45-11:45 a.m. while the second, fourth and fifth graders will attend the 12:30-3:30 p.m. classes. School buses will make an additional trip, while the temporary schedule is in effect, at 11:45 a.m. to take the morning session students home and to pick up the afternoon session pupils.

THE THIRD AND fourth grades will meet in the basement of the old building and the first, second, fifth and sixth grades will meet in the high school. Kindergarten pupils will meet in the regular place, with those living in the country attending from 9-11 a.m. and children living in the village attending from 1-3 p.m. Buses will pick up the kindergarten pupils in the morning if they live on a regular bus route, but parents will be responsible for picking them up at 11 a.m.

There will be no cafeteria service until the cafeteria in the old elementary building is completed and equipped.

The upper six grades of the school will operate on the usual schedule of 8:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Registration for kindergarten and first grade pupils will be held Sept. 1 and 2 at the high school auditorium between 1:30 and 4 p.m. Birth certificates should be presented for proof of age.

On the first day of school, Sept. 6, the school buses will make the rounds at the regular time in the morning and then an additional trip one hour later. Only pupils in the first, third, sixth and seventh through twelfth grades will ride the first bus which will arrive at the school about 8:40 a.m. Pupils in the second, fourth and fifth grades will ride the second bus which will return the morning class pupils on the same trip. All pupils will be returned that day at 11 a.m.

THE FACULTY OF the Claiborne - Richwood schools has been completed and includes: Miss Doris Shoup, kindergarten; Miss Ann Jones, Mrs. Ruth Cox, Mrs. Charlotte Wiley, first grade; Mrs. Bernice Derr, Mrs. Edith Matlack, Mrs. Mildred Fisher, second; Mrs. Ruth Weller, Mrs. Esther LeMasters, Mrs. Pauline Reeser, third; Mrs. Ruth Breisford, Mrs. Marjorie Parsons, fourth; Miss Lois Lowe, Miss Lucille Smith, fifth; Mrs. Mary Allen, Miss Christine Westlake, sixth; Miss Lois Lowe will serve as principal of the elementary school.

Middle school staff members are Meredith Myles, chairman, Mrs. Mildred Endsley, Mrs. Evelyn Grindell and Don Parsons.

The high school faculty includes: R. D. Fetter, principal; W. D. Cochran, English, social science and guidance; Mrs. Marian Cochran, English and library, C. W. Phallen, industrial arts and science; David McGuire, mathematics and physical education; Mrs. Lucille Powers, commercial; Henry Schragar, history and Spanish; Mrs. Lucille Peoples, home economics; Leo J. Schmidt, agriculture; Thomas Pence, vocal music and driver training; Robert Reinhard, instrumental music.

Miss Lucy Haywood is the special instructor in religious education. Jack Oman and John Holloway are custodians of the buildings and Mrs. Viola Collins will serve as manager of the cafeteria. Bus drivers are Ross Wiley, Lee Hagelocker, John Cheney, Jack Oman, L. M. Bumgarner and Charles Shields.

Traffic Officer Catches
Fleeing Calf by Its Tail

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Patrolman Gilbert Kennedy decided that an hour-long pursuit of a runaway calf on the express highway Sunday had gone far enough.

Kennedy didn't need a horse. He leaned out the window of a moving patrol car and grabbed the calf by its tail. Then he held on until police and a group of would-be cowboys brought the animal to earth and tied it up.

'Hot' Car Not So Hot,
Police Find in Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y., (AP)—Police thought they had a hot one Sunday. They found what they thought was an abandoned car. It had six fresh bullet holes in it.

They took it to headquarters to examine it for possible connection with any crimes. A short time later the car's owner Daniel Daily, 25, of Bronxville, showed up. Daily explained that he was staying with friends on a farm near here and that Sunday they used the car for target practice. He said he was going to junk it when he returned home.

"It was just about shot anyway," a thunderstorm can release 110,000 tons of rain in an area of eight square miles.

The Sun Never Sets

ZANZIBAR—The sun, I keep telling the British colonialists who surround the very pleasant bar of the Sailing Club here, never sets on Irving Berlin. Nor, for that matter, on Cole Porter or George Gershwin or many another American popular composer. American music has swept around the world and has crossed borders that nothing else can get across in a way that, I think, has never been properly appreciated in the country of its origin.

You can hear American music in the oddest places and in the oddest forms. In the Tivoli Gardens in Copenhagen, a city whose charms have not been exaggerated by the S.A.S. which flew me there, I heard a symphony orchestra—about 150 pieces, I'd guess—do a symphonic rendition of "Way Down Upon the Swanee River," a body of water which is an awful long way from the Baltic.

JUST THE OTHER NIGHT, a couple of us rented a rickshaw and attended a native dance out in the back woods here. There was a trumpet and drums and some stringed instruments and the music the boys were playing sounded as if it came straight out of Harlem.

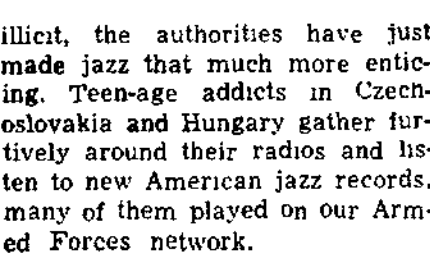

Well, I realize that Harlem and New Orleans are indebted to Africa for their rhythms and for many basic melodies. But melodies had certainly never been played in this way in native villages until they had been considerably retouched by Harlem, New Orleans and just possibly Chicago—and then returned to the land from which they sprang.

I have long since become accustomed to hearing American music in the bars and night clubs all over Europe, but it gets into many other less obvious crannies. Listening to the radio station in Nairobi after night in the wilds, we heard Dinah Shore, Frank Sinatra and the ubiquitous Bing Crosby singing songs they had recorded years ago.

AMERICAN JAZZ in its pure form has actually been kept alive in Europe, especially in France, while for a period of 6 to 10 years it was under eclipse in America. It is still going strong in Europe, and since the war its influence has crept past some mighty unfriendly border guards.

In the Iron Curtain countries American jazz has been repeatedly denounced as a nefarious form of American hooliganism, but it's a form of hooliganism that the authorities have had great difficulty in suppressing.

Addition to jazz is a very virulent mania indeed. By making it

JOHN CROSBY swept around the world and has crossed borders that nothing else can get across in a way that, I think, has never been properly appreciated in the country of its origin.

'DRACULA' WEDS WELL-WISHER. Bela (Dracula) Lugosi, 72, and Hope Louise Lininger, 39, are shown obtaining their marriage license in Santa Monica, Calif., before their wedding. She is a film studio employee and wrote regularly to Lugosi while he was in a hospital for narcotics addiction. When he recovered, he looked her up, and, well, the rest is obvious. It's his fourth venture and her first.

Program Plans For Fall Shows Are Shaping Up

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (U-P)—As fall approaches, the air is full of television program plans.

"Medic," which has been showing re-runs all summer, starts its new season on NBC-TV Sept. 5 with a dramatized story of a woman school teacher who suffers from melancholia, which in turn causes a serious disease of the digestive tract. Other medical problems "Medic" will dramatize in later programs include sterility, menopause, plastic surgery, unethical medical practice, acne, leprosy, obesity.

For the first time the program will be shot on location around the world.

Classic stories by famous authors will be seen in a series of "theatricals" on a new dramatic series over NBC-TV on alternate Tuesdays starting Oct. 4. "The program will have bigger production and more scope than almost anything yet done on television," says Producer Fred Coe. An interesting commentary on the program's hoped for audience appeal is the fact it will be spotted against CBS-TV's popular "The 64,000 Question."

In fact, before long an original drama by David Shaw will surface "The $64,000 Question."

Another new dramatic show opening Sept. 25 on CBS-TV will place a heavy accent on acting, both big names and new talent, according to those on the inside. The title of the opening show apparently is still a secret.

Richwood School Board Unexpired Term Filled

RICHWOOD—Glen E. Oman has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Ralph Matlack on the Richwood-Clatskanie Board of Education. Oman will complete the term which expires Dec. 31, 1957.

Matlack had been a member of the board for 13 years and for a period of four years was president of the board.

Galion
Miss Jayne Ella Schreck were imported Chantilly lace and tulle and her five attendants were in gold and blue when she became the bride of David Lee Monroe, Saturday afternoon, Aug. 27. The vows were exchanged in a double ring service read by Rev. Herbert S. Carnes Jr. at two o'clock in the First Lutheran Church. The custom of open church was observed.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Schreck Sr. of east of Galion and Mr. Monroe's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Monroe of Marathon Keys, Fla., former Galion residents.

A program of musical selections was presented by Marlene Bender, organist, and Mrs. Howard Holtschulte, vocalist.

Mrs. W. G. Muntean of Enon, O., was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Maitha Mae Flannery, Mrs. Michael Dougherty of Galion, Joyce Weber of Lakeside and the bride's younger sister, Kathryn Schreck. Charles Monroe Jr. was best man to his brother and the ushers were Donald Rogers, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Ted Schneck, brother of the bride, Jack Pfeiffer of Galion and James Engel, a Galion man now stationed in Washington, D. C. David Schreck, the bride's brother, and Danny Nichols, were the candle lighters.

Approximately 120 guests were received at the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony. The wedding tip will take the couple to Niagara Falls. Mr. Monroe and his bride have a residence in Galion. Both were graduated from Galion High School, she in 1954 and Mr. Monroe in 1953. The bride is employed in the office of the Power Equipment Co. Mr. Monroe is a junior at Ashland College, majoring in business administration. He has been an outstanding athlete both in high school and college.

Guests were here for the wedding from Chicago, New York, Marion, Columbus, Bedford, Mount Gilead, Toledo, Mansfield, Bucyrus, Plymouth, Canton and Marathon, Fla.

Miss Dorine Jeanne Kehrre became the bride of Cpl. Robert W. Mayer Jr. Sunday in First Evangelical and Reformed Church in a double ring ceremony. Rev. Paul C. Walter of First Evangelical United Brethren Church officiated in the absence of the church pastor, Rev. R. E. Ellicker. The custom of open church was observed. The service at two o'clock was preceded by a half-hour program of organ and vocal music. Mrs. Fred Hessebauer was the organist and Patricia Dursch was soprano soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton G. Kehrre and Mr. Mayer's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mayer Sr. of Galion. Miss Kathleen Kehrre was her sister's maid of honor and the bridegroom's sisters, Patricia and Barbara Mayer, were bridesmaids.

The reception was in charge of the Frieda-Ollie Society of the church. Martha Pace, Mrs. Merle Foraker, Miss Phyllis Kruger, and Mrs. James Heiser assisted in serving. The guest book was in charge of Suzanne Hocker.

The couple left for San Diego, Calif., following the wedding. They will live there for the next two years while the bridegroom is stationed there. Both were graduated from Galion High School. She has been employed in the offices of the U.S. Steel Garage Vault Co. He will be an instructor in the radar school at the Marine base in San Diego.

Guests for the wedding were from Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, New York, Galion and surrounding area.

The rehearsal party, Saturday evening, was given by the bridegroom's parents.

Bucyrus

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Albright of Bucyrus are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Ann Marie, to Lieut. Hildebert Van Buren IV, the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Edmona Kalbach of Pakan Baru, Sumatra, Indonesia.

Announcement of the date for the wedding, which is Dec. 30, was made Wednesday at a tea given by Mrs. Albright and Miss Jane Monnett of Bucyrus.

Miss Albright was graduated from Bucyrus High School in 1952 and will be a senior at Miami University at Oxford, O., this fall.

Lieut. Van Buren was graduated from Akron East High school in 1951 and from Miami University in June. He now is serving with the Marines at Quantico, Va.

News of Servicemen

Airman 3-e Burt R. Primmer of Marion recently completed a training program in B45 maintenance familiarization at the B45-1 Mobile Training Detachment, Sculthorpe Royal Air Force Station, England, according to word received here.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Primmer of 784 Congress St. and has been stationed overseas since March. He entered the service on Feb. 1, 1954, and took basic training at Sampson Air Force Base, N. Y., and Smoky Hill Air Force Base, Kan., prior to going overseas.

Cardington and Upper Sandusky men are currently spending 14-day leaves at home following completion of Navy recruit training.

They are Donald Lee Wilson, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harold Wilson, and Paul Denzil Wells, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Raymond Wells, both of Cardington, and Donald Edward Long, 18, son of Mrs. Dortha Ellen Long and Thomas Allen Warfel, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur Warfel, both of Upper Sandusky.

Announcement was made by Chief Boatswain's Mate Raymond Romanowski, local Navy recruiter with whom they enlisted at the Courthouse.

Wilson, a 1955 graduate of Cardington High School, will report to the U. S. Naval Base at Treasure Island, Calif., for 20 weeks of radar schooling upon completion of his leave. Wells will next go to the U. S. Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif., where he will attend 12 weeks of storekeeper school. Long's next assignment will be at Fall River, Mass., aboard the USS Makab and Warfel will report to Air Fundamentals School at Norman, Okla., for 12 weeks' training and also try to enter the Naval Cadet program. Both are 1955 graduates of Upper Sandusky High School.

Wilson and Wells entered the service last June 6 for minority terms while Long and Warfel enlisted on May 31 for four-year terms.

Robert E. Dix, 18, of Marion recently enlisted in the U. S. Army for duty with the 3rd Armored Division under the unit rotation plan.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dix of 528 Forest St., he enlisted in the service through the local Army recruiting office at 181 N. State St. His division is scheduled to depart for Europe in the spring of 1956 under the Army's new unit rotation plan.

Dix is a graduate of Harding High School last June and was employed at Albers Super Market.

Seventh-Place Nats Hand Cleveland Twin Reversal

Tribe Skids to Third Place As Yanks and Chisox Split

The Associated Press

You can't blame the Cleveland Indians for being puzzled today. They would like to know why the Washington Senators are anchored in seventh place in the American League. Nothing that the Senators showed Sunday and for that matter the entire season when playing Cleveland, indicated that they belong nearly 30 games back of the league-leading New York Yankees.

The Indians were all set to move into first place Sunday if the Yankees and Chicago White Sox should split, which they did. Then Cleveland ran smack into the red-hot Senators, who had just finished polishing off the White Sox in two out of three games. When the twin bill was over, the Tribe found themselves on the short end of 8-2 and 13-4 scores and in third place, a game back of the Yanks with whom they were tied when the day started.

Hold 12-7 Edge

It's been like that most of the season with the Senators. They hold a 12-7 edge over Cleveland. Maybe it's a jinx and maybe it's psychology, but if the Indians fail to repeat as American League champs, they can blame the lowly Senators.

They now have beaten the Indians five times in a row, seven out of the last eight, and 12-7 for the season.

New Jinx

It's a jinx it's a new one, because the Indians beat Washington 18 games to 4 as they swept to the pennant last year.

Recently they can't beat the Nats no matter what they do. Manager Al Lopez, who can't explain it, wasn't around in gloomy Lakefront Stadium to see the end of the Sunday's debacle. He was ejected in the sixth inning of the nightcap.

The inning after Lopez left, the Nats blasted Mike Garcia, Don Mossi and Ray Narleski for eight runs. After that all but a few of the crowd of 25,131 left too.

Maybe it's a psychological let-down, because the Tribe has been running up against Washington just after playing the New York Yankees.

After winning two out of three from the Yanks early this month, the Indians lost three in a row in Washington by scores of 7-5, 6-5 and 9-3. Yesterday's doubleheader followed another Yankee series, which Cleveland also had won 2-1.

The Indians, now in third place a game off the pace, have 25 games left to play. If manager Al Lopez is right in predicting they'll need 95 victories to win the pennant, the Tribe will have to win 18 of those 25.

Three of them are in Washington—a doubleheader on Sept. 13 and a single game on the 14th. That series follows a doubleheader with the Yankees.

Yesterday was the first time the Indians have lost a doubleheader since July 10, 1954, when they dropped one to the Chicago White Sox. They have won seven doubleheaders and split 10 this season.

Stobbs Is Winner

The Indians got a total of 11 hits in both. Chuck Stobbs, who had a 2-11 season record, gave up only one hit in the opener after relieving Dean Stone in the third inning.

Of the seven pitchers Cleveland used, only Bob Feller, who pitched the final two innings of the opener, held the Nats hitless.

Ralph Kiner and Al Smith hit homers for Cleveland in the second game. Smith, with 19, moved into a tie with Larry Doby for the club lead, and tied Al Rosen for the RBI lead with 70.

The Yankees beat Chicago 6-1 in the opener on the strength of home runs by Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra but the White Sox came back to take the second 3-2. Bob Kennedy drove in all of their runs with a first-inning homer. The split moved the Sox into second place, half a game back.

Boxing Win

Meantime, the Boston Red Sox edged back into the pennant picture with a 14-2 decision over Kansas City. They're now 3½ games off the top.

The Orioles and Tigers game was rained out. In the National League, the cellar-dwelling Pittsburgh Pirates won a doubleheader from the Milwaukee Braves 5-3 and 2-0 while the Brooklyn Dodgers were downing St. Louis 6-1 to increase their margin to 1½ games.

The surging Philadelphia Phillies made it nine victories in their last 10 outings with 7-6 and 8-2 victories over the Cincinnati Redlegs. Chicago shut out New York 3-0.

Nine hits, six of them for extra bases, in the middle innings plus the sharp relief pitching of Chuck Stobbs carried the Senators to their first-game victory over the Indians. Stobbs gave up only one hit over the last 6 1-3 innings.

The second game was a pitchers' duel between Mike Garcia and Mickey McDermott until the seventh when the Senators went wild and racked up eight runs at the expense of Don Mossi and Ray Narleski. McDermott allowed only six hits, including homers by Ralph Kiner and Al Smith.

Mickey Mantle's three-run homer, his 34th, in the third inning gave Whitey Ford a comfortable margin to work on as he chalked up his 15th victory in the opener against the White Sox. Then Yogi Berra connected with his 23rd with one aboard in the fifth to make it still easier.

Kennedy Homers

Bob Kennedy settled the night cap in the first inning when he homered off Bob Turley with two mates aboard. Billy Pierce held the Yanks to two runs through 6 2-3 innings and Dixie Howell blanked them the remainder of the way.

Home runs were the story of the Red Sox triumph. They smashed four of them. Eddie Joost hit a pair of three-run homers, Grady Hatton got a grand slammer in the first and Ted Williams connected with No. 25. Karl Spooner hurled a six-hitter for the Dodgers and was supported by an 11-hit attack, including homers by Gil Hodges and Roy Campanella.

Phillies Win Two To Dim Reds' Hopes

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Hopes that the 1955 Cincinnati Redlegs would be the first Cincinnati squad to land a first division berth since the 1944 team were battered with a doubleheader defeat yesterday.

The red hot Philadelphia Phillies edged the Reds 7-6 in the first game and blasted them 8-3 in the nightcap.

The double reversal pushed the fifth place Cincinnati 3½ games behind fourth place New York. Only 22 games remain on the Redleg playing schedule, with the last appearance in Connie Mack Stadium set for tonight.

Philadelphia touched left-handed Joe Nuxhall for two runs in the first inning of the opener on a pair of singles and a walk. The Phils knocked him out of the game, and down to his 10th defeat in 24 decisions, in the second on Stan Lopata's homer and Jim Greengrass' triple.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts used pitchers Bud Podbielan, Johnny Klippstein and Hershel Freeman in an attempt to halt the Philadelphia tide. But the Phils scored single runs in the third and fourth. The last and what proved to be the winning run was chalked up in the fifth when Granny Hamner singled, took third on Podbielan's wild pitch and came home on a sacrifice fly.

The eight Philadelphia hits included bases empty homers by Lopata, Del Ennis and former Redleg Greengrass. The Reds picked up 13 hits. They turned a walk, wild pitch and Rocky Bridges' single into one run in the second inning and picked up two more in the third on four singles. They added a pair in the fifth with Wally Post's double, Gus Bell's triple, which sent Herm Wehmeier from the Philadelphia mound, and Sam Mele's single. Cincinnati could score only one run in the eighth on four hits. Bob Thurman was out at the plate trying to score from second on an infield single.

Philadelphia quickly picked up four runs off Jackie Collum in the second game's first inning, using four walks and two hits. The Phils added three runs in the sixth and one in the eighth off Rudy Minarcin. Ennis hit his second homer of the day.

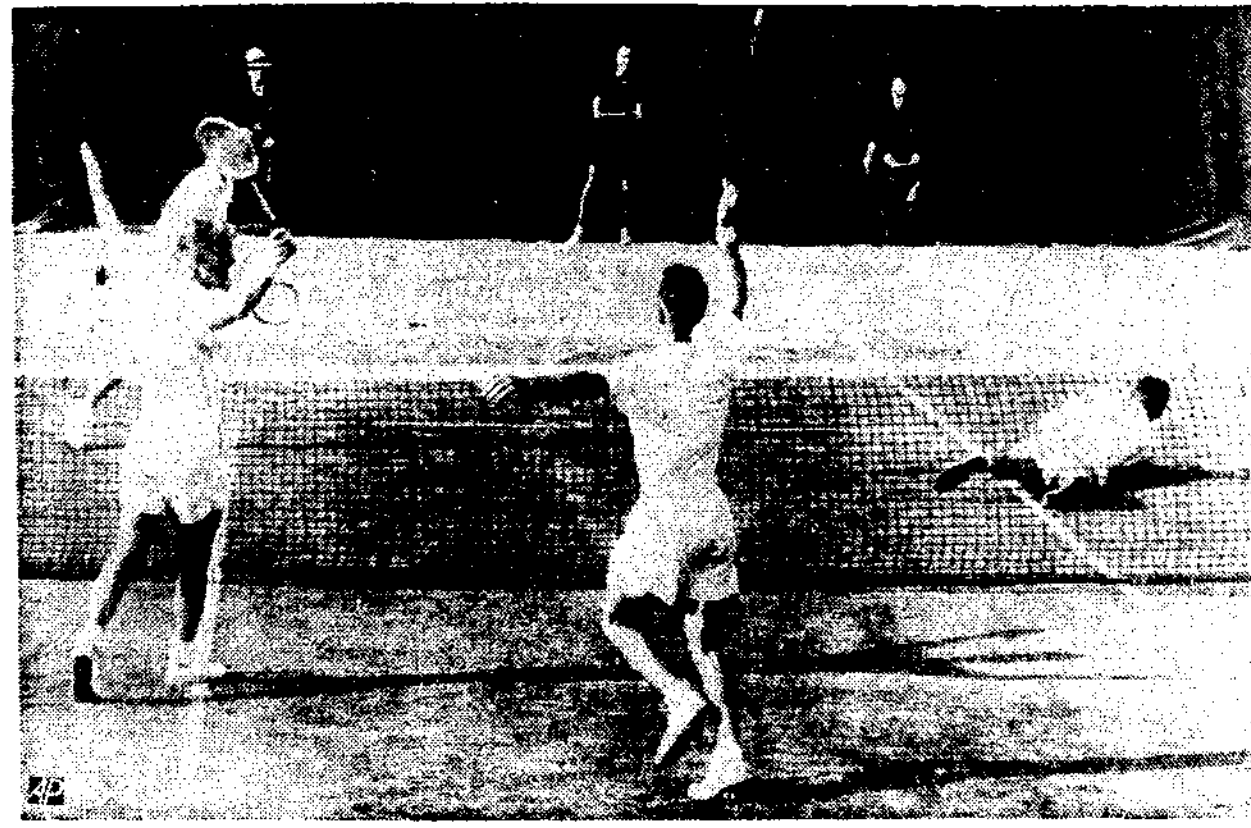

Ron Negray went the route and gave up nine hits for his fourth victory against three losses. Collum's record dropped to 9-8. The Reds scored an unearned run in the fourth on singles by Gus Bell and Milt Smith and a wild throw by Greengrass. Ted Kluszewski, who had four singles and a double in nine trips during the day, doubled and Wally Post singled for a run in the fifth. Mele homered for the last Red marker in the sixth.

Thurman singled in the ninth but was erased on a double play when Chuck Harmon tied to left. Thurman, who thought there were two outs, was around to third when Ennis caught the fly.

Reichardt and Newell Win Local Golf Championships

Club golf championships were decided at both the Marion Country Club and Mar-O-Del courses in matches Sunday.

Russ Reichardt is the 1955 champion at the Country Club and Cecil Newell is the new Mar-O-Del titlist.

Reichardt became club champion at the Country Club with a 2 and 1 victory over Bob Hastings in the 36-hole Class A final. He won it with an afternoon rally, since he was four down to Hastings when they went to lunch. Reichardt carded 74-70 while Hastings fired 70-77 on the far 12 course.

NEWELL WON the Mar-O-Del crown by defeating Al Davis 4 and 3 in the 18-hole first flight final. He had whipped Dick Owens while Davis won over Norman Withrow during the week to gain the finals.

Mrs. Don Yoder and Mrs. Paul Kohler were announced as Class B and C winners respectively in club championship play at the Marion Country Club.

Mrs. Yoder defeated Mrs. James McNoldy in the Class B final and Mrs. Kohler topped Mrs. Joe Jenkins for the Class C title. Mrs.

will wind up men's play in the club championship at Mar-O-Del.

IN ONE PLAYED Wednesday, Warren Rowley and Leo Groll tied for first in Class A with 70 scores. Dr. Ray Finney and Cass Sisler both had 71's.

Barney Buettin with a 66 was tops in Class B and Roy Clauser topped the Class C golfers with a 71 score.

Newt Minard posted a 64 tally for first in Class A of a medal play tourney played Saturday.

Russ Reichardt and Paul Hunt both had 68's.

Dr. Richard Morgan led the Class B golfers with a 66 total while John Tjaden posted 67, and Les VanDomelen and George Howser both carded 70's. In Class C Don Cuthbert won with 66.

Australians Complete Sweep Against U.S. for Davis Cup

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The road back to supremacy in the Davis Cup will be a long one for the United States unless Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall succumb to the lure of a pot of professional gold.

Australia's 20-year-old Whiz Kids showed themselves complete masters of Tony Trabert, Vic Seixas and Ham Richardson, America's top players, when they won the Challenge Round by a crushing 5-0 count.

Even after they had won the cup by sweeping past Seixas and Trabert in the singles and doubles for an insurmountable 3-0 lead, they continued to apply relentless pressure in the final two singles Sunday. The results were a 7-9, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4 victory by Hoad over Seixas and a 6-4, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4 triumph by Rosewall over Richardson.

Where to now? No one really knows. Seixas, at 32, is out of the picture. When the 1956 Challenge Round is played Down Under, he'll be 33. He no longer has the equipment to cope with the Aussies and probably will retire to his Philadelphia plumbing business.

Trabert remains the one big hope of the United States. He is a better player than he showed in the Challenge Round, and on any given day has at least a 50-50 chance against either Hoad or Rosewall.

During the Challenge Round, the Aussies simply were the better players.

The crew-cut Cincinnati, assuming he doesn't turn pro, will have to find a teammate for next year. He probably squashed any

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Eddie Joost, Red Sox, hit a pair of three-run homers as Boston trounced the Kansas City Athletics 14-2.

Pitching—Vernon Law, Pirates, tamed the Milwaukee Braves with four scattered hits in the second game as Pittsburgh downed the Milwaukee Braves 5-3 and 2-0. Way at 3.

Hamilton also took the figure eight event, beating out Wright and Heffelfinger in that order. In the consolation event, Dickerson led the field across the finish line. Oller came home second and Heffelfinger took third place.

Big Ten Teams Slate Openings Of Grid Drills

CHICAGO (AP)—Football practice for Big Ten schools opens Thursday and only one thing is sure before the season gets under way: It'll be mighty rough for Ohio State's Buckeyes to repeat as champions.

The Buckeyes have lost 9 of last year's 11 starters including Dave Leggett, Bobby Watkins and Hubert Bobo.

Ohio State could dash in again, though, with a team rebuilt around halfback Howard Cassady, tackle Frank Machinsky, center Ken Vargo and guard Jim Parker.

Ohio State, Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa seem to comprise Big Ten power but not necessarily in that order. Purdue could pass itself into contention and Minnesota and Michigan State cannot be overlooked.

Illinois, Northwestern and Indiana appear as the weakest teams.

Michigan is blessed with a pair of great ends in Ron Kramer and Tom Maentz. In the backfield will be versatile Lou Baldacci and Tony Branoff.

Wisconsin must replace Alan Ameche but the Badgers have a veteran team headed by quarterback Jim Miller and Jim Haluska.

Iowa has 18 returning lettermen including guard Cal Jones and backs Jerry Reichow, Earl Smith and Eddie Vincent.

Coach Murray Warmath will rely on sophomores and a sprinkling of veterans to back up Minnesota's line showing last year.

Quarterback Len Dawson and ends Lamar Lunday and Bob Kheone comprise most of Purdue's offense. The ground attack is headed by fullback Bill Murakowski.

Michigan State pins its hopes on a shifty backfield which includes Earl Morrill, Clarence Peaks, Gerry Musetti and Gerry Planutis.

Illinois' big problem is rebuilding a shattered line. Despite the loss of J. C. Caroline the Illini have Abe Woodson, Harry Jefferson and Mickey Bates flanking quarterback Hiles Stout and Em Lindbeck.

Indiana has depth and experience for a change but the Hoosiers must find a replacement for pass-master Florian Helinski.

Northwestern, led by freshmen coach Lon Saban, will rely on sophomores although 21 lettermen are returning.

Welters To Clash In TV Ring Match

By The Associated Press

Gene Poirier, an exciting welterweight prospect from Niagara Falls, N.Y., is a slight favorite to beat Denmark's Chris Christensen in a 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

A good puncher with either hand, Poirier, an ex-platoon sergeant in Korea, is credited with a 13-2-2 record in the books although he says he has chalked up six more victories. He is 23.

Christensen, a stand-up fighter with an effective left hand, has a 26-6-2 record. He is 29.

Prexy Fans Invited To Attend Scrimmage, Booster Meeting

Marion football fans have been invited to take their first look at Harding High School's 1955 football squad Wednesday night.

Coach Gordon Larson today announced his Prexies will take part in a scrimmage session with Mansfield Madison at the Harding Stadium. The scrimmage is slated to get under way at 7:30.

Larson invited the public to attend the session and also a meeting of the Harding Booster Club in the high school lunchroom following the drills. The Booster meeting will be held around 8:30 he said.

Players and coaches will be introduced at the meeting and Larson will explain his coaching methods to the boosters. He also will discuss equipment and insurance plans for the Prexy gridgers.

The scrimmage against Madison is the first of several scheduled by Larson. He said he hoped to "get the mistakes out of the way early."

The Prexies today entered their second week of preparation for the grid opener less than three weeks away. The Prexies will open the campaign Sept. 16 at Columbus West after staging a preview here against Norwalk on Sept. 9.

San Francisco, Rams Winners In Exhibitions

By The Associated Press

Exhibition successes by San Francisco and Los Angeles indicate the 49ers and Rams are ready to challenge for the Western Division title in the National Football League.

The 49ers fought off a desperate two-touchdown final quarter rally by the Cleveland Browns to take a 17-14 victory at San Francisco Sunday. Meanwhile, the Rams nipped the New York Giants 23-17 in an overtime game at Portland, Ore.

Last year's lowly Chicago Cardinals tripped the champion Detroit Lions 17-16 in St. Louis and the Pittsburgh Steelers squeezed by the Green Bay Packers 16-14 at Green Bay in other games.

The 49ers winning margin came on Gordy Soltau's 10-yard field goal in the second period after two earlier touchdowns. But the Browns charged back with a pair in the final quarter as Maurice Bassett plunged for one and George Ratnerman passed to Ray Renfro for the other.

The Rams went 3½ minutes overtime, under terms of a pregame agreement with Tank Younger plunging over from the two-yard line to break a 17-17 at the end of regulation play.

Pat Summerall's 27-yard field goal with 18 seconds left enabled the Cardinals to gain their second for victory of the season. Long runs by Ollie Matson and Dave Mann jolted the Lions while Doak Walker booted three field goals and Lew Carpenter's two-yard plunge provided Detroit with all its scoring.

Art Michalik kicked a 14-yard field goal with 65 seconds remaining to give Pittsburgh the win. The Steelers scored their two touchdowns on passes from Jim Finks. Green Bay scored as Al Carmichael tallied from five yards out. Quarterback Tobin Rote drove over for the other score.

Gene Littler Wins Single Hole Playoff

MONTREAL (AP)—A routine par by Gene Littler, 25-year-old Californian, snuffed out Vancouver's Stan Leonard in a sensational extra-hole finish to win the $26,800 Montreal Open golf tournament.

Leonard's bid Sunday fell short because of a blooming chip shot. Nine holes back Littler holed out a 25-foot chip — "the shot that really won for me"—and the two eventually went into sudden-death play.

The pair had finished the 72-hole tournament tied with eight-under-par 272s, galloping past Doug Ford of Klamath Lake, N. Y. Ford soared to a last-round 72 and a third-place finish at 275 with Ed (Porky) Oliver of Lemont, Ill., and Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Littler's win gave him $4,280. Leonard collected $3,875.

The biggest pari-mutuel payoff goal with 18 seconds left enabled the Cardinals to gain their second for victory of the season. Long runs

How Sun's one-grade policy gives you PREMIUM QUALITY GASOLINE at regular gas price

Sun Oil Company's single-grade policy results in savings on storage tanks, trucks, pumps . . . savings that are reinvested in research and new facilities. Sun is also years ahead of the industry in advanced catalytic refining facilities. That's why Sun can produce a premium quality, high-test gasoline—New Advanced Blue Sunoco—that sells at regular gas price.

"I'm not going to increase the fire insurance on my house even though values are high," Mr. Meredith remarked. "We've got good fire protection in this town."

I don't think my house would burn to the foundation. So why should I carry up to 80% of present value?"

"We do have good fire protection. But a fire can do high damage even though it doesn't burn a house clear down. For example, suppose the center of your house would be burned out from basement to roof. This could happen even here. It might surprise you to learn it would cost as much—maybe more—to rebuild and repair as if you had started fresh to build the entire house. It simply takes lots of man-hours to remove the debris, to hack out the charred core of a home, to shore up floors and ceilings, to build from the inside out. Ask any contractor that's tried it."

"That's an angle I hadn't thought of," Mr. Meredith admitted.

"Nowadays, many people carry a high percentage of value for that reason. And, under the newer forms, we can pay full replacement cost, without deducting for depreciation, if you do carry the proper insurance to value."

"Write it up," Mr. Meredith said, "that's what I want."

Bob Hall and Vernon Law were the flies in the Braves' ointment. Hall pitched seven-hit ball and Law tossed a four-hitter at them.

Del Ennis, Jimmy Greenglass and Stan Lopata hit homers as the Phillies eked out their one-run first-game decision over the Redlegs. And then in the nightcap Ennis hit another, his 27th, as the surging Phils pounded Jackie Coleman and Rudy Minarcin for 11 hits.

Pennsylvania Turnpike

39 additional miles of more durable, lower-cost Asphalt are being added to America's Pioneer Turnpike.

Last year, after 14 years of costly maintenance on the original hard-surfaced material, 22 miles of the Pennsylvania Turnpike were resurfaced with Asphalt.

So it's not surprising that the contracts for the three sections being resurfaced this year also specify ASPHALT.

All roads are Asphalt eventually — why not now?

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels continued their leadership of last week as the stock market went higher in early afternoon today.

Gains of about a point were scored although a few fractional losers spotted the list.

Standard Oil of Indiana dropped around a point following the big fire at its Whiting, Ind., refinery over the weekend.

Reynolds Metals was up around six, Union Carbide, Bethlehem and Wheeling Steel and Douglas Aircraft around a point.

Other gainers included U. S. Steel, Republic, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Crucible among the steel shares.

Anaconda and Kennecott were off slightly while American Smelting and Phelps Dodge leaned upward.

New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake & Ohio were among the gainers.

Others on the upside were Goodrich, Dow Chemical, International Paper, Sinclair and Commonwealth Edison.

U. S. Treasury bonds were off.

South Can't Agree on Another Candidate

Move by Anti-Stevenson Group Fizzles

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moves among Southern Democrats toward forming an anti-Stevenson bloc appeared today to be foundering for lack of agreement on another candidate for president.

The recent announcement of Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) before he left for Europe that he "definitely will not run again" apparently has removed the chief challenger around whom Dixie Democrats opposed to Adlai E. Stevenson could have rallied.

Stevenson, the former governor of Illinois who won the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952, hasn't yet announced his plans for 1956. But it is widely believed that he will try again.

Timber Scarcer

Thus far no other possible opponent has emerged who seems likely to command anywhere near as much Southern support as Russell did in 1952 when he got 268 votes — only five short of Stevenson's total — on the first ballot at the party convention. All but 48 of Russell's votes came from the South.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), who topped both Russell and Stevenson with 340 on the first ballot, may make a new try next year. But Kefauver is no favorite of Dixie Democrats, as evidenced by the fact that only 41 of his 1952 votes came from the South.

These 41 included 28 from Kefauver's own state of Tennessee, where Gov. Frank G. Clement has publicly committed himself to work for Stevenson's renomination.

Shivers Calls for 'Revolt'

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, who supported Dwight D. Eisenhower three years ago, has called for a Southern "revolt" against Stevenson's nomination. There is some suspicion among his colleagues that Shivers would like to be the rallying figure of such a revolt.

But Shivers' declaration that he would support "practically anybody" — including a Republican — in preference to Stevenson is not expected to endear him to Democratic leaders in Dixie.

Lately there has been talk among some Southerners about advancing Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio as a candidate who could command Southern support and pick up conservative backing elsewhere. But while Lausche has said he may seek "favorite son" designation in Ohio, many of his friends think he is much more interested in contesting Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) for a Senate seat than he is in any kind of serious run for the presidential nomination.

Oppose Harriman's Views

There are some Southern Democrats who regard Gov. Averell Harriman of New York as a more attractive candidate than Stevenson. They concede, however, that Harriman's views on the party-splitting civil rights issue are just as strong as Stevenson's.

Stevenson's friends have been in the South trying to patch up the differences that cost the 1952 nominee Florida, Tennessee, Virginia and Texas three years ago. Stephen A. Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman, said after a recent survey in Florida and other Southeastern states he is "definitely encouraged" about Stevenson's chances there.

Russell, who said Stevenson could have the 1956 nomination if he goes after it, also declared that Stevenson now could "carry the South."

809 in County Receive Aid for Aged Payments

A total of 809 Marion County residents participated in $45,734 in Division of Aid for the Aged payments during the month of August.

These payments averaged $56. This was a part of 100,730 recipients who shared in $5,625,033 of payments throughout the state for the month.

Nearby counties' recipients received the following payments: Crawford, $26,153 among 479; Delaware, $30,320 among 526; Hardin, $38,983 among 683; Morrow, $18,632 among 333; Union, $32,217 among 559; and Wyandot, $16,464 among 289.

Rubber Workers Raise $25,000 for Flood Relief

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The CIO United Rubber Workers today announced a $25,000 gift for the relief of flood victims in the East. The union said its contribution would be given to the CIO Special Committee, which works in conjunction with the American Red Cross and other relief agencies. Half the sum will come from the union's defense strike fund, and half will be advance payment from the union's treasury, to be reimbursed by local unions, a spokesman said.

14th Enlistment

The 14th man to enlist at the local Navy recruiting station at the county courthouse this month is at Bainbridge, Md., today taking his basic training. He is Robert Lee Bear of near Forest, who enlisted in the Navy until he reaches his 21st birthday. He enlisted late last week.

Two Men Injured In Crash at Galion

GALION — Paul Schnegelsberger, 30, of Galion remains in Galion Community Hospital, where he has been receiving treatment following an automobile crash early Saturday morning.

Robert E. Scott, 30, of Galion, driver of the car in which Schnegelsberger was a passenger, was cited by the Bucyrus state highway patrol to appear in Mayor Nelson Lee's court in Crestline Sept. 2 at 8 p.m. for a hearing. He was charged with unsafe operation of his car of which he lost control when he rounded a curve on Route 30-S, about a half mile east of Galion. The car rolled over several times.

Schnegelsberger received severe lacerations of the face, contusions of the right eye and chest and back injuries. Scott suffered a lacerated right elbow. He was not admitted to the hospital.

The 1955 car was demolished.

Fire Damages Auto

An estimated $125 damage resulted in an automobile fire at 6:30 a.m. today, Fire Chief O. A. Sifrit reported.

A car owned by John Shearer of 361 Cherry St., parked in front of his home, caught fire from the sparks of a cigarette, Chief Sifrit said, and caused the damage to the interior of the car.

Firemen from the Central station responded to the call.

Honey of a Battle

FT. EUSTIS, Va. (AP)—Pic. Wyman Atkinson suffered painful facial and leg wounds in a sudden pitched battle aboard the merchant vessel John A. Donald berthed at an army pier here. A swarm of bees attacked the vessel. It was tough and for a couple of hours before the bees were all swatted and put to flight. It was a honey of a fight while vessel John A. Donald berthed at it lasted, though.

Flood Disaster Tightens Steel Supply Picture

CLEVELAND (AP)—The recent New England floods have placed an additional handicap on the steel industry, "Steel," the metalworking weekly, reports.

They not only created a need for more steel to replace destroyed bridges and other structures, but also reduced production of the metal in the flooded areas at a time when mills were trying to catch up with the heavy demand, the magazine said.

The mills have only a limited amount of steel to allot to structural sections and plates—the two products needed most in the New England area—because such products as sheets and bars also are in strong demand.

"Steel" said mills are making allocations of their products to enable all their customers to get enough steel to continue operations. It added that producers of nickel alloy steel are having a difficult time because of the short supply of nickel.

Nationwide ingot production dropped one point to 90 per cent of rated capacity last week despite efforts of the industry to keep output at a high level, the magazine said.

The market undertone remained steady, however, with "Steel's" price composites unchanged at $127.41 a net ton on finished steel and $44.33 a gross ton on steel-making scrap.

Dallas Pilots Find 200-Ton Hangar Blocking Runway

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Startled airplane pilots saw a 200-ton hangar squatting on Love Field's best runway Sunday.

The hangar was being moved across the airfield as part of an expansion program. But rain had softened the ground and when the hangar was pulled off a taxi strip it bogged down. Tractors, cranes and trucks couldn't move the huge building. Its 88 dollies were firmly stuck in the mud.

The edge of the hangar blocked the runway and planes were shifted to a shorter strip.

After about 10 hours metal plates were placed on the ground and the hangar was moved out of the way.

West Virginia Youth, 15, Kills Dad After Beating

PINEVILLE, W. Va. (AP)—A 15-year-old Ravenscliff youth shot and killed his father Sunday after being whipped for playing a radio too loudly, Wyoming County Sheriff Paul Goode reported.

The youth, James Albert Hart, was lodged in the county jail pending a hearing today before Circuit Judge Robert M. Worrell. No formal charge was filed against him immediately.

Goode said his investigation showed that the boy's father, James Roscoe Hart, 46, had whipped the youth with a heavy miner's belt. The youngster grabbed a 12-gauge shotgun from another room in the home and shot his father between the eyes as the older Hart stood on the back porch.

RECORD-SETTING TYPE. A North American F100C fighter plane, of the type shown here, is reported to have set the first official world's speed record for an airplane flying faster than sound. An industry publication, the American Aviation Daily, said the plane reportedly flew just over 800 miles an hour Aug. 24. Under wings are: At outside, 750-pound demolition bombs; in middle, 750 gallon fuel tanks; and inside, 1,000-pound general purpose bombs.

Young Speller Has Not Yet Decided To Go For $32,000

UNION, W. Va. (AP)—Gloria Lockerman, the 12-year-old Baltimore school girl who has spelled her way to $16,000 on a television show, has not yet decided whether she will try for $32,000.

Gloria's aunt, Mrs. Maude Dunlap, said she would like to see her niece try for the $32,000 on "The $64,000 Question." Tuesday night, but added that the girl and her grandparents with whom she lives had made no decision as yet.

The little Negro girl came to nearby Gap Mills last Thursday with her grandparents, the Rev. and Mrs. Vivian Key of Baltimore, to spend a few days at the home of her grandmother's sister, Mrs. Fay Trust.

Mrs. Dunlap said some of Gloria's other relatives would like to see her try for the $32,000, that Gloria seemed confident she could win. Her aunt added that she did not think anyone tried to discourage Gloria from continuing toward a possible total award of $64,000.

Moose Leaps, Crashes Auto in New Brunswick

NEWCASTLE, N. B. (AP)—A high-jumping moose lost his life Sunday when he failed to clear a New-castle driver's car.

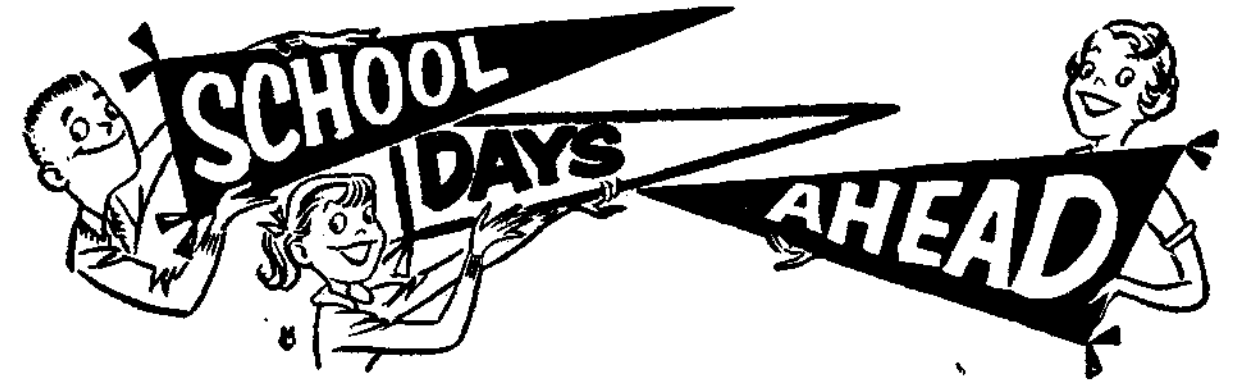

The moose came belting out of the woods near here just as Gerry Donahue and a friend came driving by. The animal took off majestically—and crashed through the car roof.

Donahue and a passenger escaped injury. The car was badly damaged. The moose broke his leg and a mounted police constable shot him.

Turnpike To Open

Oct. 1 Will Be Red Letter Day for Ohio's Motorists

By NORMAN G. CORNISH
United Press Staff Correspondent

They're going to snap the shackles of Mr. Motorist in Ohio Oct. 1. That's the day he will be able to whiz across the entire state in three hours less driving time.

And at a 65-mile-an-hour clip with no red lights for 241 miles.

Along the way, there will be modern restaurants and leafy picnic ground... and free ambulance service if he doesn't quite make it.

And it's all for three dollars, the price of a one-way toll ticket on the Ohio Turnpike.

By 1972, the whole ride should be free. That's the year some 326 million dollars in bonds are expected to be paid off.

Until then, there won't be any free rides. Even Gov. Frank J. Lausche will have to plunk down his money.

To get a motorist's eye-view of what the turnpike is going to be like, just imagine that it's Sept. 30 and the clock has struck midnight.

The gates open at the interchanges and you and your car zip up to the little toll houses. The toll collector will hand you a card with holes punched in it. That tells you how much it costs to go to each of the other 16 interchanges.

Don't Lose Card

Don't lose it, because you will have to pay the toll from the farthest point if you do. If you do happen to misplace it and find it later, the Turnpike Commission will refund your money.

All right, check your gas and take your mark. Get set... go!

Whoa—not too fast. If you get up over 65, chances are one of 59 state highway patrolmen will stop you for exceeding the turnpike speed limit. Then you and your car will be escorted from the turnpike to the nearest municipal court.

There'll be some mighty pretty country along the way, but no stopping will be allowed unless a sparkplug gives out or a tire blows.

In that case, word will be radioed by the patrol that you need help. Soon an emergency service truck will arrive on the scene to see what the trouble is.

If it's just a service call, the bill will be three dollars plus parts. If it's towing you need, that might cost 7 to 10 dollars.

Eight Restaurants

Somewhere along those 241 miles you might get hungry and if you do, there are eight restaurants to choose from on your side of the road.

You also have your choice of five kinds of gas. The kiddies can be parked in the playground while you're filling up and having that oil checked. Picnic spots are also available if you've got a little more time.

All of these facilities are located at "service plazas" along the route. They have intriguing names like Fallen Timbers, Brady's Leap, Indian Meadow, Glacier Hills and Blue Heron.

Incidentally, the restaurants and gas stations are located right across from each other on each side of the turnpike. That's so you won't be tempted to make a U-turn across the grassy centerstrip—a little lesson learned from the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Free Ambulance Service

If you do have an accident and are unfortunate enough to be injured, an ambulance will whisk you to the nearest hospital free of charge. But that only goes for motorists not truckers.

If you travel as far west as the Indiana border, you will find a good connection with U.S. Route 20 at the end of the Ohio Turnpike. The eastern end, of course, joins the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Indiana is still building its turnpike but it should be completed next year. In future years, Illinois will have one too. When both are finished, Mr. Motorist will be able to zoom 1,000 miles across the eastern part of the nation solely on super toll roads.

In the meantime, more than 14 million motorists are expected to roll over the Ohio Turnpike each year.

Registration Slated For Edison School

EDISON — The Edison School will open on Tuesday, Sept. 6, it was announced this week by Supt. H. H. Geiger. There will be a one-half day session only.

School lunches will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 7. Application has been made for federal aid for the school lunches and for surplus commodities.

The office of the superintendent will be open from 9-12 a.m. and 1-2 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 31. All students new to the school, except first graders, should register on that date. First graders will be registered on the first day of school.

Students in grades 9-12 inclusive will receive their schedule cards by mail. Any student in grades 9-12 inclusive may change the schedule on the opening day of school, if such a change or changes meets the state requirements and does not conflict with the daily schedule.

One study shows that harvesting of a single corn crop in Iowa cost 326 fingers, 63 hands, 14 arms, 2 legs and 3 lives.

'PANTS TOO LONG' Gino Prato, the shoe repair chap who picked up $32,000 on the $64,000 Question TV show, tries on a new dress suit before his daughter's wedding. He must be telling Sam Rudofsky in the New York shop, "Sam you made the pants too long."

Moon Money Needed

BESSEMER, Ala. (AP)—A trip to the moon for two persons is possible—for about seven billion dollars.

That's the opinion of Charles D. Davidson, of the mission planning office of the Army Ordnance guided missile and rocket research center at Redstone, Ala.

In a speech here, Davidson says there are no insurmountable engineering barriers. All that's needed, he said, are money, manpower and a valid reason.

Traffic Crashes Kill 9 in State Over Weekend
By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents on Ohio roads claimed nine lives over the weekend. Three other persons drowned and one more was believed to have drowned.
The first six hours of the 54-hour survey from 6 p.m. (EST) Friday night to midnight last (Sunday) night were free from fatalities, but an accident near Fremont yesterday caused three deaths and swelled the toll.
Two other persons died in vehicle connected accidents Saturday. One man was crushed by a dump truck while at work near Cleveland, and another's tractor upset and crushed him at Fredericktown in Knox County.
The list of victims:
Saturday:
Mrs. Bessie R. Mann, 71, burned fatally when fire destroyed her home near Proctorville (Lawrence County).
Edgar Cirulis, 52, maintenance man at the Ford Motor Co. foundry at Brook Park, Cleveland suburb, crushed to death beneath the wheels of a dump truck at the foundry.
Walter Jacobs, 19, Milledgeville, drowned in Paint Creek (Ross County).
Herbert F. Durnwald, 37, Fremont, believed drowned in Lake Erie after falling off a boat near East Harbor Park.
Mrs. Louise Anderson, 65, Dayton, in a two-car crash at the intersection of U. S. 25 and Ness Rd., three miles north of Dayton.
Frances E. Cunningham, 8, Rt. 1, Salem, hit by car on a Columbiana County road near her home.
Harley Clawson, 37, Rt. 1, Fredericktown (Knox County), when the tractor he was driving in a wheat field upset and crushed him.
Sunday:
James Castle, 70, Hueysville, Ky., in a one-car accident on U. S. 20, one mile east of Bellevue (Huron County).
Mrs. C. M. Taylor, 43, Toronto, Ohio, in the collision of an auto and tractor trailer truck two miles north of Ravenna on Ohio 14.
Mark Doran, 23, Youngstown, in a three-car collision just north of Youngstown.
Bob Robinson, 41, near Rutland, drowned in the Ohio River at Middleport (Meigs County) when he jumped off a barge to recover a fishing pole.
Joseph Yonkich, 22, Akron, in an auto crash on the Akron Expressway.
George Kellmermeier, 39, and wife Marie, 37, Toledo, and Robert Zimmerman, 17, Jackson, Mich., when a car jumped the dividing strip on four-lane U. S. 20 near Fremont and crashed into oncoming traffic.

Cleveland Finds Rare Chameleon
CLEVELAND (AP)—Harold Nank thought he'd found the missing armadillo yesterday, but it proved to be an African chameleon.
Nank found the 8-inch long, lizard snoozing in a Forsythia bush in his yard. He figured it was the pet armadillo that disappeared Aug. 12 from the home of 12-year-old John Scott, who had advertised for its return in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.
A reporter and photographer for the Plain Dealer knew that what Nank had found was not the armadillo, but what was it?
They showed a picture of it to William H. Scheele, director of the Cleveland Museum of Natural History. After observing its prehensile tail, opposed digits and large eyeballs with fused lids, Scheele said: "It can't be anything but an African chameleon. But what is it doing here?"
Sign Evendale Pact
CINCINNATI (AP)—Five year contracts with the General Electric Co. were approved yesterday by CIO United Automobile Workers and AFL International Assn. of Machinists employed at the jet propulsion plant at Evendale. The employment pacts provide for wage increases each year, cost of living adjustments and other benefits. The contracts are similar to others GE has negotiated in its plants across the nation.

20,000 Leave Jobs in UAW's Bendix Strike
DETROIT (AP)—Five Bendix Aviation Corp. plants were reported shut down today in a strike of 20,000 CIO United Auto Worker employees.
Company and union negotiators, however, continued contract talks in an effort to reach a settlement.
A union spokesman said the strike action affected plants in Detroit; North Hollywood, Calif.; South Bend, Ind.; Teterboro, N. J.; and Elmira, N. Y.
He said three other plants in Detroit, St. Joseph, Mich., and Inglewood, Calif., employing a total of about 1,000 UAW members, were expected to continue production.
Contracts with the three plants, the union official said, do not expire until Oct. 1.
The UAW said it is attempting in current talks to integrate the various contracts in a master pact.
The old contracts with five of the plants expired at midnight Sunday. The UAW Bendix council called the strike action despite the fact negotiations continued.
Under a mutual agreement, union and company spokesmen have refused to disclose what progress is being made at the bargaining sessions.
The union seeks a contract that gives the basic package won in negotiations with the auto industry. Demands include a layoff plan to guarantee an idled worker 60 to 65 per cent of his take-home pay for a maximum of 26 weeks.
In 1940 there were 60 million dollars worth of $10,000 bills in circulation.

Blasts Probed At Strikebound Florida Plant

MULBERRY, Fla. (AP)—A series of explosions ripped up the control room of a strikebound phosphate plant early today and soon afterward a guard reported six shots were fired at him, as he made his rounds at another plant of the same company.

The explosions were estimated to have caused $250,000 damage in the Bonnie plant of the International Minerals and Chemical Corp. The company has five properties, including mines, in the area which employed 1,200 union men.

Workers struck in June when a union contract expired. The processing plants were reopened Aug. 8 with supervisory personnel performing the work. There was a rash of minor violence at that time.

Sheriff Pat Gordon said three dynamite charges would have been required to cause the damage in the control room. J. L. Rowe, assistant plant manager, said the entire control center of the sulphuric acid plant was destroyed.

The sheriff reported six shots were fired at Leon O'Steen, a guard, as he made his rounds of other plants. He called the shooting "attempted intimidation."

Neither the union nor the company had any comment on either incident immediately.

The International Chemical Workers Union (AFL) demands an eight-cent wage increase and a new union contract. The company contends it offered the eight cents, but union spokesmen said two cents of the offer was for free bus service which did not belong in the wage increase.

Warden Awaits Report On Penitentiary Shooting

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Warden Joseph B. Bovey said today several shots were fired by a National Guardsman on duty inside the Nebraska penitentiary Sunday night.

Bovey said he "presumed" the shots were to "quell a possible uprising." But he declined to say more until he read the report from the commanding officer of the National Guard.

Guardsmen have been on duty at the prison since a riot and fire Aug. 16. The riot was followed by an uprising in the prison's maximum security building Aug. 20 and 21.

Auto-Truck Crash Kills Driver Near Hamilton

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A man identified as Paul L. Getz of West Alexandria in Preble County was killed today in an automobile-truck collision.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Ohio 503 and 73 north of Seven Mile in Butler County. Roger Duvall, 8, of Dayton, Ohio, a grandson of Getz, was injured.

Massillon Water Rate Case Settled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Massillon water rate increase fust will end today.

Atty. John Brown of Columbus, representing the Ohio Water Service Co. which supplies Massillon with water, told the state utilities commission he and the Massillon city solicitor today will file a joint request to have a rate case dismissed.

Brown said the company and city had entered into a valid agreement.

The company asked the commission to set new rates after it was unable to get a new rate ordinance from Massillon City Council.

At one time the council flatly refused to pass a new ordinance. Later the council passed an ordinance which the company studied. Apparently the ordinance is satisfactory to both Massillon and the company.

Blank Checkbook Stolen At Local Business Office

Theft of a blank checkbook from his place of business at 130 S. Main St. was reported to Marion police Saturday by Claude V. Hines. He told police he thought the checkbook was stolen sometime Thursday and that he since had received a telephone call from an anonymous caller who claimed to be a telephone repairman wanting to know Hines' correct home address.

The blank checks had Hines' name and a former home address at 152 Johnson St. printed on them, he told police. Hines said he believed the unidentified caller possibly was the person who took the blank checks.

Salvation Army's Final
Playground Event Slated

An "everybody's birthday party" tonight at 7:30 p.m. will conclude the Salvation Army's summer playground program for the year.

On Saturday about 150 youngsters attended the annual playground picnic at the Salvation Army camp, Greenwood Lake, in Delaware. Special guests were residents of the Marion County Children's Home.

A lunch was served at noon at the camp, and boating, fishing, swimming and games were events of the afternoon. Following the evening meal at 5:30 p.m., the group returned to Marion.

Crossings Here Blocked For Freight Car Repair

Downtown railroad crossings in Marion were blocked for several minutes Sunday night when trouble developed in one car of a west-bound Erie Railroad freight train.

Police were notified of the break-down by the Erie dispatcher at 6:13 p.m. who also reported the train was to be cut at the crossings to let traffic through. The trouble was repaired at 6:38 p.m., and the train moved on a few minutes later, police were told.

Artillery Shell Explodes, Kills Three at Picnic

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Three small children lost their lives Sunday night in what one official called "one of the worst disasters the city has ever seen" when a 90 mm. shell exploded over a picnic fire.

Ten others were injured, one critically.

Asst. Fire Chief W. E. Wood said, "There was food, toys, chairs and clothing scattered all over the place. This is one of the worst disasters the city has ever suffered."

"One boy was blown right out of his shoes."

The explosion ripped through an apartment house yard, killing 4-year-old Velma Morales instantly. George Valdez, 6, was dead on arrival at the El Paso General Hospital and Ricardo Lujan, 10, died a short time later at the hospital.

Tiny Hector Ramirez, 4, is in critical condition. Both his legs were amputated.

Most of the injured suffered either shrapnel wounds or serious flash burns.

Police said Carlos Valdez, father of George Valdez, told them he had built the fire in the yard and the children were roasting corn when the blast occurred.

Valdez told police the shell had been lying around for some time and that everybody thought it was a dud. He said he thought the shell might have been picked up when the family had a picnic a couple of months ago near the Casner range of Ft. Bliss.

Caught Short

While politicians are criticizing weathermen for not seeing the eastern floods coming, the politicians also were caught short.

Although Harry Truman proposed a plan in 1952 to set up government insurance for victims of flood disasters, nothing ever was done about it. Congress has given more attention to foreign aid than it has given to the problem of domestic aid in the wake of wind and water disasters.

President Eisenhower apparently is going to be given permission by key Democrats to go beyond the letter of the law in using federal funds for disaster relief. But his program is indefinite. Some of the relief can be given outright with no strings attached, and some must be given in the form of loans, repayable at stiff rates of interest.

An individual or a business enterprise in one of the affected states might be better off if the same misfortune had occurred in Italy, for instance, or Thailand, where U.S. aid would be forthcoming with no strings attached—no interest charged and no repayment expected.

This same situation came to attention after the tornado-disasters in Flint, Mich., and Worcester County, Mass., in 1953 when it was made known that the American Red Cross had attached strings to disaster funds. The public was not happy about the practice.

The popular assumption that disaster victims are given outright aid because that is the sole purpose of disaster funds is not justified. The federal government does not even have disaster funds available.

'No Good Can Come of It'

It has turned out just the way Grandpa said it would when the 19th amendment gave women the right to vote—away back there in 1919. The women would get uppity, Grandpa warned. There would be no stopping them once they rubbed shoulders with men at the ballot box.

"No good can come of it," he said. Adlai Stevenson's former wife has been making fun of him in public for his reluctance to make up his mind about trying to be president, and now comes a more flagrant example of disrespect for the once-mighty male.

The wife of a Chicago UAW union leader has said in the hearing of others that she is so peeved at him for going on strike while negotiations were in progress that she has locked him out of the house. Mrs. Esther Quigley has gone further than that; she has helped to organize other UAW wives to put pressure on their striking husbands to go back to work, too. She is trying to break her own husband's strike. Grandpa was right. Let women get the idea they are helping to run this country and right thing you know they'll be criticizing men. It's embarrassing, that is what it is—downright embarrassing.

Libretto on Segregation

If the musical show librettists are awake, they will build a very funny show out of the Houston, Tex., incident in which white supremacy asserted itself at the expense of the ambassador from India and his secretary.

When the two diplomatic personages from India asked for service in the International Airport restaurant, they were asked to step into a private room. What they thought was an honor was in reality a slight.

But when the slight came to official attention, an uproar ensued in Washington—and the bewildered Indians, who didn't know they had been insulted, had to accept apologies for what they thought was a favor.

An incident could have been averted entirely if they had been:

1. Cuban ballplayers with the Washington Senators.
2. Wearing outlandish headgear.
3. Garbed in clothing resembling dressing gowns.

Segregation in the United States is a state of mind, not a state of being. If the librettists can't make something out of that, they aren't trying.

Respite From Hating

When members of Congress admit they enjoyed calmer nerves and better health than usual in 1955 because bitterness has almost disappeared from the political scene in Washington, something momentous has happened.

During the administrations of Truman, the second Roosevelt, Hoover, Coolidge, Harding, Wilson, Taft and the first Roosevelt, bitterness destroyed the composure of Washington politicians as sulphuric acid destroys wood.

But since Dwight Eisenhower brought his live-and-let-live attitude into federal politics in 1954, there has been a refreshing respite from hating. Even those who do not admire the Eisenhower administration or pick flaws in it for political purposes do not hate its leader in the way his predecessors in the White House were hated.

If it were possible to devise a poll to reflect the rate of public dislike, it is likely President Eisenhower would be the least disliked chief executive of the century. Others have pleased large majorities, but they were deeply displeasing to large minorities. The absence of a displeased minority marks Dwight Eisenhower as unique among 20th century presidents and as outstanding among all presidents.

U. S. Speeds Buildup of Air Bases in Europe

WIESBADEN The United States is pressing the buildup in American air strength in Europe despite the Soviet diplomatic campaign to close down U.S. bases on the continent.

Construction of air bases and huge depots is being pushed. U.S. air units are being beefed up with new aircraft just off factory assembly lines.

The Air Force makes no bones about its anxiety over the startling progress of the Soviet aviation industry in catching up with the U. S. It is taken for granted at American Air Force in Europe headquarters that the Soviets intend to try to wrest world leadership in aviation design and construction from the United States.

The United States Air Forces in Europe (USAFE) are the backbone of continental air strength. Without USAFE the whole fabric of NATO air strength would disintegrate rapidly.

USAFE's determination to get on with the job of putting muscle in NATO air power is mirrored most distinctly at Chateauroux, where the United States is spending 90 million dollars on this single base. Now two-thirds completed, Chateauroux is the continent's largest and best-equipped air depot.

THIS BASE, deep in Southern France, houses everything from an aircraft plant where U.S. jets are rebuilt and reconditioned to a single office covering four acres with banks of IBM machines and an electronic brain to handle air force supply problems.

Chateauroux is manned by 5,000 airmen and an additional 5,000 French who work for the Air Force. Chateauroux is most impressive, however, as a monument to the Air Force's refusal to be deterred by any obstacle, natural or man-made, in pressing to completion its vast foreign base.

Four years ago Chateauroux was nothing but an expanse of mud and the air depot was an Air Force dream. Two years ago the base project, mired down in mud and harassed by French red tape and political hostility in Congress, was a major air force headache.

Congressmen feared the whole base might vanish in the mud before it could be completed. Airmen complained that Siberia couldn't be worse.

USAFE, WHICH IS observing its 10th anniversary on the continent, was established, ironically enough, to deploy 180,000 World War II airmen to the United States for discharge to dispose of 3½ billion dollars in surplus property—and to disband the Luftwaffe.

Over the decade USAFE's mission has swung 360 degrees. Now one facet of its mission is to help the Germans rebuild the Luftwaffe.

USAFE now consists of three air forces—the Third, based in the United Kingdom; the 12th, on the continent, and the 17th, in North Africa.

The Third Air Force, commanded by Maj. Gen. Roscoe C. Wilson with headquarters at South Ruislip, also has responsibility for Norway and Denmark. The 12th Air Force is spread over Germany, France and Benelux. Its commander, Maj. Gen. Robert M. Lee, has his headquarters at Ramstein, near Kaiserslautern, Germany.

THE 17TH AIR FORCE, whose headquarters is at Rabat, French Morocco, sprawls over the Mediterranean and Middle East. Its area of responsibility extends from French Morocco east to Libya, Italy, Greece and the rest of the Mediterranean littoral.

As Lieut. Gen. William H. Tunner, USAFE commander in chief, points out, "A little over a year ago 17th Air Force activities were confined to French Morocco. Now they are spread throughout the Mediterranean area."

The 12th Air Force was set up four years ago, but its strength has grown most rapidly in the last year. Reports Gen. Lee:

"During the past year we have completed our conversion to an all-jet tactical capability. The addition of such planes as the RB 57, B57B, RF84F and the F86D have tremendously increased our firepower and weapons potential.

"The addition of two new fighter bomber wings, the 21st and the 388th, together with the 69th Tactical (guided) Missile Squadron, have further added to this strength."

TO KEEP THE SUPPLY system as mobile as the combat aircraft it supports, USAFE spans its farflung area with Air Materiel Forces, Europe (AMFE) and the 32nd Air Division (combat cargo). The two organizations, set up last year, work as a team providing the thousands of essentials needed by the tactical air forces.

A span of three major depots and subsidiaries divides USAFE into air materiel areas matching the three numbered air forces.

Chateauroux, main depot of the Central Air Materiel Command, services the 12th Air Force. The Northern Air Materiel Command, at Burtonwood, Eng., supplies the Third Air Force and the Strategic Air Command (SAC units stationed in the United Kingdom) on a rotational training basis. The Southern Air Materiel Command has its biggest depot at Nousseur, French Morocco, for support of the 17th Air Force and the SAC Fifth Air Division at Sidi Slimane. That Was Summer

By TRUMAN TIVILL

Somewhere along the line, you learn what summer is—a state of mind, like springtime.

You hardly know when it begins or what causes it. But one day you are in the state of mind called summer, and there you stay until one day you are out of that particular state of mind. Then it is the beginning of autumn another state of mind.

Why the state of mind called summer yields to the one called autumn is not easy to know.

It has something to do with tassels popping out of the tops of shoulder-high cornstalks, a circle of faded rose petals under your favorite rosebush and seed heads towering above the toughening lettuce leaves.

It is involved with pictures of football players departing for training camps, news of preparations for the beginning of the fall school term, burnt-out patches on lawns that were uniformly green when summer began and the depth of the tan on the necks of outdoor workers and habitual swimmers.

There is a connection with the scuffed appearance of summer shoes and the lived-in looks of summer clothing, the fading of the bright colors of awnings and lawn furniture and the faded appetites of the scholastic young for vacation-time freedom they thought they never would tire of having.

Something happens when the wheat has been harvested and it is time to start on the oats, when wise-cracking farmers begin to joke about lathering their hay fields to shave off a second crop, when the ground is littered with windfalls under the Early Transparent apple tree.

When clothing stores begin to clean out their inventory of light clothes to make space for heavy ones, when it is time for women to discuss the possibilities of finding what they need in the August fur sales and baseball fans discover that three-fifths of the big-league games have been played.

It can be traced to the first appearance of corn on the cob, the selection of beauty queens, the shrinking of batting averages and vacationing absentees who return with tales of high old times in faraway places.

Summertime is on the wane when string beans get stringy, dogs excavate holes to sleep in under bushes, summer drinks are offered as a matter of course instead of as a treat, lawns don't need to be trimmed every three days, no one looks twice at a converted convertible and no one asks, "Is it hot enough for you?"

Something then has happened to the state of mind that made summer feasible in the first place and kept it going until the time came for a change. The same thing that happened to the state of mind that made springtime possible. . . the same thing that brings on winter in due course of time.

No one knows what happens to summer, but it has something to do with tassels popping out of cornstalks and a lot of related phenomena—and suddenly summer is in the past, not the present.

Running Against Nixon

By Raymond Moley

LOS ANGELES Last week the official Democratic party organization was running against Herbert Hoover. Last year the opponent was McCarthy. This week, the official word is that Nixon is the target.

Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, in a series of press conferences in California singles out the Californian vice-president as the real peril next year if Eisenhower runs and Nixon runs with him.

The gruesome suggestion is that, since Eisenhower will be past 65, Nixon is likely to be president by succession.

This is a convenient but somewhat indirect way of disposing of an opposing candidate. Just say it is unnecessary to discuss him because he will be dead anyhow. De mortuis nil nisi bonum.

AMONG THE many things that disqualify Nixon, according to Butler, is the fact that he hits hard in a campaign. He is "always engaged in the smear-type of campaign and questioning the honesty of those who didn't agree with him."

This attack is significant, not because Butler and his party really mean to reveal their strategy now, but because it is intended to have a certain effect upon the advisers who shape the President's thinking in politics.

Democrats know quite well that it might be possible to throw sufficient fear into the people around the President to make them feel that Nixon is a dangerous liability. Some of those people would prefer a vice-presidential candidate from the Eastern or internationalist wing of the party. They might settle for Gov. Herter of Massachusetts or the ever-ready Harold Stassen.

THEY ALSO feel that the Communist issue is not serious, that Nixon made too much of it in the 1954 campaign, and that it is wrong to accuse the Truman administration of corruption.

Those advisers are augmented by a considerable number of commentators who have been attacking Nixon for a long time because he did not raise the issues of communism and corruption. Those commentators support Eisenhower only on the theory that he is not a real Republican and that all Republicans west of Scranton should be purged.

Both of these groups—the left-wing, internationalist advisers of the President, and the anti-Republican commentators—know that the President, because of his inexperience in politics, can be greatly influenced by what the opposition is saying.

THEY HOPE that the mind of the President can be bent to the belief that Nixon is a serious liability and that he can be persuaded to drop Nixon, just as Roosevelt was persuaded to drop Wallace in 1944.

The anti-Republican commentators and the experienced Democrats know and the Eisenhower advisers fail to realize that this line of action, if it succeeds in turning the President against the Vice-President, will precipitate a violent internal war in the Republican party.

California Republicans would resent any such move so bitterly that it would be difficult if not impossible for the President to carry it next year. For Californians are very proud indeed of their representation in Washington, and in this, the most populous part of the state, Nixon is a hometown boy.

NIXON FULLY appreciates this opposition and the motives behind it. He also realizes what the President should realize—that the softness toward Eisenhower by the Democrats is not stimulated by any love of the man. They are trying to get him out of office, to discredit him, and only expediency prompts them to speak softly now.

Nixon believes in party government. He believes in carrying the political war to the opposition. He hates communism and was, as a member of the House, the man who broke the Hiss case and awakened a lethargic country to the danger of Communists in government. He has grown in his present office. That is why he has created such opposition.

Prisoner of War Problem

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON The armed forces failed to prepare American servicemen, who became prisoners of war in Korea, for the Red Chinese technique of indoctrination and brainwashing.

This is acknowledged by the Defense Department's special committee—made up of high government officials and top, retired officers—which has issued a report on the POW problem.

It recommended the department begin a program to prepare American servicemen against Communist questioners if they are captured in the future. Any such preparation in the past, the committee said, was "decidedly inadequate."

There were some lessons to be learned from the Communists in World War II but the Defense Department either didn't learn them or failed to foresee the turn they'd take.

The committee, reviewing the treatment of POWs in World War II by the Axis powers and the Communists, reported:

1. The Germans' treatment of American prisoners was "fairly punctilious," although perhaps more from fear of American reprisals than public opinion.

2. The Japanese were brutal but not "subtle" with American prisoners. In their tortures and atrocities they were being vicious for the sake of viciousness or were seeking military information. They were not trying to indoctrinate their captives or seduce their minds.

3. The Russians gave a hint of things to come by their treatment of German prisoners. They herded them into political camps and besieged them endlessly with Marxist teachings to indoctrinate them with communism.

4. The Red Chinese, in their civil war with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese, also put their Nationalist prisoners into political camps and tried to convert them to communism.

That civil war continued until a few months before the Korean War. So when they got into that, the Red Chinese used the same methods of indoctrination on American prisoners, with some additions.

The Red Chinese mistreatment in trying to seduce the Americans into collaborating with them or converting them to communism, took many forms: little food, barren shelters, constant interrogation in some cases, propaganda, indoctrination, plus breaking down morale and mutual trust among the prisoners.

It had been popularly supposed before the Korean War that the Communist victims who testified against themselves in the peace-time purge trials in Europe had been drugged. Perhaps some of them were.

But the defense committee said: "POWs of war in Korea were not drugged. Other methods such as denial of food or sleep were equally effective and more practical."

Only 4,428—of the 7,196 Americans captured in Korea—survived imprisonment. The committee said only 192 of the survivors were found chargeable with serious offenses against the United States or their fellow prisoners.

But the committee said: "Only a handful of the POWs in Korea were able to maintain an absolute silence under military interrogation. Nearly all the American prisoners went beyond the 'absolute' name, rank, number, date of birth restriction."

The armed forces, the committee said, have never had a clearly defined code of conduct for American prisoners after capture. So the committee produced a code which President Eisenhower laid down as the code for the future.

There's a certain type friend who thinks just because there is an expensive car parked in front of your house you've had to call in either a doctor or plumber.

By facing up to even the worst things we can usually live through them. It appears, for example, that we have survived the charcoal-and-pink era.

No Loose Caboose

SEWARD, Neb. (A) — When Henry Weitzel of Seward retired in 1951 after 42½ years of working for a railroad, he had time on his hands and railroading still in his system.

So he acquired an 1871 railroad caboose, transplanted it to his back yard and made it into an attractive cottage.

He did all the work except plumbing and wiring, and figures the job cost about $1,100.

Passing Show

By Dorothy McCordle

East Abandoning Colorful Dress

WASHINGTON

One of the world's most colorful fashion shows has been unintentionally staged in Washington during the August heat wave.

Women of Far Eastern lands have worn their varied and glamorous national costumes at a series of social affairs at the embassies of Japan, Korea, Indonesia, Pakistan, and India. The occasions were either the national holidays of the countries or in honor of VIP's from the homeland.

But there are definite signs that this may be a passing show. How much longer will such magnificent costumes be the traditional wardrobe of women in these far lands?

There is a change already under way in three of these countries. Women in Japan, Korea, and Indonesia are rapidly adopting Western dress for daytime wear. No thanks to Dior, either. Thanks rather to the fact that Western dress is "more practical, cooler and cheaper" for the workaday world, they say.

However, at party-time, women in Tokyo, Seoul, and the many big cities of Indonesia swiftly change back to their own national dress because it makes them feel "more glamorous."

THE DAUGHTER of Japan's visiting foreign minister, Shigemitsu, like the wife of the Japanese ambassador, possesses a "Dual wardrobe," reports the Japanese embassy. Hanako Shigemitsu, 23, finds there are times when the traditional Japanese kimono is cumbersome and out of place.

"In Tokyo, especially in the summertime, more and more women wear Western dress since it is difficult to hop on and off buses and trolley cars in a kimono," explained an embassy spokesman. "Many Japanese women now keep the kimono for home and formal party time."

In Korea, younger women are all for the shorter skirts, shorter sleeves and lower necks worn by the American girl, says "Polly" Yang, wife of the Korean ambassador.

CHIC AND DIMINUTIVE Madame Yang is often a Paris fashion plate on Washington's party circuit. But for Korea's Independence Day party at the embassy, she wore the traditional, high-necked, long sleeved, and all-enveloping long skirt of Korea's national dress.

"This is not practical for modern, busy life," she explained. "It is too hot in summer, too hard to keep clean, and too confining when you are in a hurry. For that reason, so many women in Korea wear Western dress in the daytime."

Officials at the Indonesia embassy report the same style trend. For work—Western clothes. For party-time, they prefer the more feminine "kebaya" (blouse) and "kain" (flowing skirt) which were on display last week at the Indonesian embassy celebration of their Independence Day.

FOR THE INDEPENDENCE DAY celebration at the Pakistan embassy, Pakistani women likewise wore their traditional dress—the "shal-walkamiz" (tunic and trousers) or the "gharara" (divided skirt). That's what they wear every day for every occasion, work or play. And there are no signs that Western dress will take hold in Pakistan, say embassy spokesmen.

This goes for the national dress of India, too. The sari was very much in evidence last week during the visit here of the Maharajah of Jaipur.

"Why should we give up the sari?" one woman asked. "All you need to be well and comfortably dressed in India are a few blouses over which you drape a long length of material, the sari. The sari never goes out of style. And a woman keeps on acquiring saris, which have no size, either, all her life. She can wear her mother's and her grandmother's and be just as fashionable as in a brand-new one."

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — Officers of the convention of the laymen's association held in conjunction with the Central German Methodist Episcopal conference headed by B. F. Schneek of Seymour, Ind., as president were elected at the closing session of the association here.

20 YEARS AGO — Astrid, 29-year-old queen of the Belgians, was fatally injured when the automobile her husband, King Leopold, was driving, swerved off a country road near Kussnacht, Switzerland, and hit a tree.

Seven men who organized the Royal Peanut Association 59 years previously returned to their homes after renewing their pledges of friendship and recalling incidents of the first picnic at the annual gathering of the association at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Bain on Wallace St.

The Marion County Bar Association which attended funeral services for the late James H. Eymon in a body adopted a memorial resolution at a brief meeting in the common pleas courtroom the day previously.

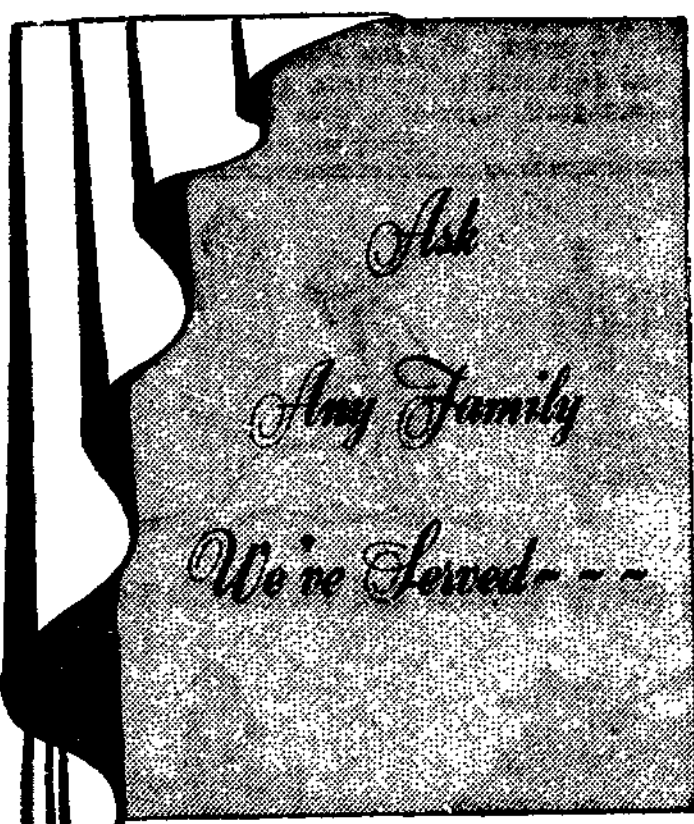

Arrangements for entertaining approximately 300 Lutheran ministers and lay delegates who were to come to Marion for the fifth annual convention of the Ohio District of the American Lutheran Church were nearing completion here.

10 YEARS AGO — Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, was held partly responsible for the Pearl Harbor disaster by an Army board of inquiry but President Truman, in releasing the long-awaited Army and Navy reports on the events leading up to Dec. 7, 1941, said the criticism was "entirely unjustified."

The four major western allies named 24 Nazi leaders and Prussian military chiefs—among them Herman Goering, Rudolph Hess, Wilhelm Keitel, and Karl Doenitz—as defendants in the first mass trial of Germany's arch criminals early in October.

An estimated 7,000 persons flocked onto the fairgrounds for the fourth day of the Marion County Fair, the largest attendance recorded to date.

Considerable interest attaches to the appointment of a space satellite expert as secretary of the Air Force. It's unusual for the basketball coach to be named director of physical education.

Fourth of July fireworks caused 466 deaths in 1903, but in recent years, only one to four such deaths have been reported in single years.

Service Slated For Victim of Bucyrus Crash

BUCYRUS — Funeral services for Mrs. Janet E. Smith, 30, of Bucyrus, who died Saturday night in City Hospital here of injuries received early Saturday when her car struck a concrete bridge abutment, will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Wise Funeral Home here.

Dr. Fay M. Bowman, pastor of Woodlawn Evangelical United Brethren Church, will officiate and burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery. Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Mrs. Smith, a lifelong resident here and owner and operator of Janet's Beauty Nook, was injured when her car struck an abutment at the east edge of Bucyrus near the Bucyrus Country Club on U.S. Route 30-N. She was alone at the time of the accident, which occurred at 3:30 a.m. Before opening her own beauty parlor, Mrs. Smith was employed seven years at the Shafer Beauty Shop here.

Born Nov. 7, 1924, in Bucyrus, she was the daughter of Leroy and Nina Sharp Veil, Bucyrus. She was married Aug. 21, 1948, to Mildard Smith, who survives, along with her parents and a brother, Myron, serving in the Navy at Long Beach, Calif.

Mrs. Smith was a 1942 graduate of Bucyrus High School and belonged to Woodlawn Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Her death was the second traffic fatality in Bucyrus in two days. David W. Vinson, 25, Bucyrus, died Friday night in City Hospital of injuries received early Friday when he lost control of his car on a curve, six miles east of Bucyrus on U.S. Route 30-N.

There have been five traffic deaths in Crawford County this year.

The Social Notebook

AT THE HOUR of 10 a.m. Saturday in St. Mary Catholic Church Miss Elinor J. Thiel became the bride of Jack E. Whaley, with Rev. Robert Noon, assistant pastor, officiating. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orbin S. Thiel of near Marion and her bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Whaley, also of near Marion.

Nuptial music was by the St. Mary Chorus.

Giving the bride in marriage was her father, and three of her sisters were her attendants.

Her bridal gown of imported French hand-clipped rosepointe lace and nylon tulle was worn over satin and the bodice was fashioned with a scalloped shoulder line below the Queen Anne collar. The bouffant floor-length skirt featured pinnies of lace extending to the hemline.

Ornamenting the veil were sequins. She carried a white rosary and prayer book with an orchid from which streamers of white forget-me-nots were hanging.

A KITCHEN shower honoring Miss Ruth Anne Rimmer, a bride-elect of September, was given Thursday evening by Mrs. Ralph Howard Jr. and Miss Alice Zachman at the former's home near Norton.

Decorations were carried out in the honored guest's chosen wedding colors of pink and blue. Contest prizes were won by Miss Marjorie Sorreles and Miss Joanne Robbins.

Present with the honored guest and hostesses were Mrs. Margaret Emerson, Miss Margaret Zachman, Mrs. R. L. Coleman, Mrs. William Davidson, Mrs. John Walker, Mrs. Francis Haubert, Mrs. Clair Graham, Mrs. Don Anderson, Mrs. G. A. Rimmer, Miss Jane Rimmer, Mrs. William O'Driscoll of Prospect, Mrs. Robert Rizer of LaRue, Miss Sorreles and Miss Robbins of Green Camp.

Miss Rimmer's marriage to Harold Willis will be an event of Sept. 10 and will take place in Trinity Baptist Church, Marion.

Mrs. Joan House was hostess for a meeting of the Johnson Street Club Wednesday evening. Canasta was played with high honors going to Mrs. Thelma Zeigler, Mrs. Mary Hogan, a guest, and Mrs. Ellen Minshall.

Mrs. Marilyn Smith was consoled. The hostess gift was won by Mrs. Hilda Hacker. Hostess for the next meeting will be Mrs. Mary Cline.

THE HOME of the bride's parents was the scene of the wedding reception with Misses Barbara Powers, Noreen Bussey, Helen Haughton and Isabelle Ransome as hostesses. Following the ceremony dinner for the immediate families was served at noon at the Marion Country Club.

On leaving for a wedding trip to Maine the bride wore a street-length dress of white and green lace with which she combined white accessories and she wore her wedding orchid.

Both the bride and her husband are employed at the Marion Lincoln-Mercury Sales and Service. She attended high school at Upper Sandusky and is a bookkeeper for the automobile firm in Marion. A graduate of Harding High School, she served four years in the U. S.

Weddings

Of interest here is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Frances Carol Pinson and S-Sgt. Harold C. Powley, U.S. Air Force.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Pinson of Dayton and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Kenneth Welsh of Prospect.

The wedding took place Saturday, Aug. 20, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the chapel at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. Officiating for the double ring ceremony was Rev. Letchworth, chaplain at the base.

For the ceremony, the altar was decorated with white gladioli, palms and candles.

The bride was attired in a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. Over the lace bodice was a jacket of lace.

featuring a Queen Anne collar and sleeves tapering to points over the hands. The tulle skirt was accented with a deep lace peplum continuing into a deeper point in the back.

A headpiece of lace, bordered by pearls, held her finger-length veil of tulle and she carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid and baby breath.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Barbara Crist of Donnellville, and bridesmaid was Mrs. Anna Lou Pinson. Their dresses were of crystalite with jackets featuring stand-up collars and three-quarter length sleeves.

The maid of honor was in ruby red and the bridesmaid in blue, and they wore hats of hairbraids and flowers to match their gowns.

Miss Crist carried a bouquet in the form of a cross of red carnations and Mrs. Pinson's cross-shaped bouquet was of blue carnations.

Robert C. Pinson, brother of the bride, served as best man and seating the guests was Niles Hack of Prospect, cousin of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pinson chose a navy blue dress of taffeta and crepe with white accessories. Her corsage was of red and white carnations.

Mrs. Welsh was attired in a brown taffeta dress with pink accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

For a reception which followed, hostesses were Miss Novella Craft of Fairborn, Mrs. Mildred Steinmetz and Miss Carroll Meadows of Springfield and Miss Nancy Lee Taylor of Columbus.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Miami, Fla., Mrs. Powley was wearing a print dress of aqua and beige silk with a matching aqua coat. She combined with it brown accessories and her bridal orchid.

Mrs. Powley was graduated from Springfield High School and is employed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. S-Sgt. Powley is a graduate of the U.S. Armed Forces Institute, Madison, Wis., and is stationed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. The couple will make their home at Page Manor, Dayton.

Pleasant Group Plans for Fall Flower Events

Plans are under way by the Pleasant Garden Club for a fall flower show at Pleasant School Sept. 10 and 11 under direction of Mrs. Paul W. Augenstein, president of the club.

Theme of the show will be "A Glorious Autumn" and arrangements are being made for display of a large number of classifications of flowers and vegetables.

The time Sept. 10 will be 7 p.m. until 10 and Sept. 11 1:30 p.m. to 7.

All amateur gardeners of Marion County will be eligible to enter exhibits. Flower or vegetable specimens must have been grown and displayed by the exhibitor who has entered the show.

However, flowers used in artistic arrangement classes need not have been grown by the exhibitor provided they have been grown out of doors in a private garden, it was explained.

A card must accompany each arrangement giving the name of the material used. Exhibits are to be completely arranged before being brought to the show and the deadline is between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. Sept. 10. Only one entry may be made in each class and no exhibit can compete in more than one class. Specimen containers will be furnished by the show committee.

Committees include Mrs. Giles Hoch, Mrs. Frank Putman and Mrs. John Eichhorn, educational and judging; Mrs. Gerald Seiter, Mrs. Carl Hoch and Mrs. Philip Daugherty, entries; Mrs. Ralph Williams, Mrs. Gerald Rasey, Miss Emma Leffler, Mrs. Emerson Dietrich and all members of general committee, staging; Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Carl Messenger and Mrs. Grover Hahn, publicity and premium; Mrs. Robert Blank, secretary; Mrs. Henry Dutt, Mrs. Leslie Bunnell, Mrs. Marion Craven and Mrs. George Seiter, financial; Mrs. Carl Baseler, Mrs. Ray Dutt and Mrs. Dale Vanderhoff, hospitality; and Mrs. W. E. Thomas, Mrs. Walter Rinehart and Mrs. James Watts, music.

Members of the Circle of Light, King's Daughters, held a picnic Wednesday evening at McKinley Park. Also during the evening, a handkerchief shower was held for Mrs. Charles Dix, who is moving to Cincinnati in the near future.

Following supper, the time was spent socially.

A picnic for members of the Emanuel Lutheran Women's Missionary Guild and their families was held Thursday night at Prospect Park. Entertainment included a humorous skit by Norman Fogt and William Dowler. Contests and games were led by Mrs. Jean Wells and Mrs. Kay Pennington. Hostesses were Mrs. Ruth Peters, Mrs. Mary Dean and Miss Edith Augenstein.

PTA Nets $422 From Tag Sale

The sum of $422.08 was realized by the Marion City PTA Council from its two-day "tag" sale last Friday and Saturday in downtown Marion.

A total of 135 workers from the various PTA units in the city assisted in the collection of the contributions which will go into the organizations' welfare and shoe funds, toward school boy patrol work in which a boy or girl is sent to Washington each year, toward the teacher scholarship fund from which a Marion student is sent to college to become a teacher, and toward the Dental and Hearing Clinic at Marion General Hospital.

Officers of the council termed the sale a success and wish to thank all PTA members who contributed their time as workers.

Mrs. Donald Strickland served as general chairman, and assisting her were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burdette, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Steerman, Mrs. Alfred Whittington and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bernow.
